Huntington Beach holds a referendum to decide whether the municipality shall elect a chief of police and city attorney, and decides in the affirmative. Then the city attorney says the city can't do it. And these differences of opinion are what make lawsuits, added to the continuous tide lands litigation Huntington Beach still holds its place in the legal limelight, as well as oil.

A number of my friends who went to Newport Beach Saturday evening to witness the tournament of lights, arrived home the following Sunday morning. As this event increases in brilliance it also increases in attendance. Hence acknowledged highways impose a delay in getting out, and also getting in. It is the best evidence in the world that the event is holding its place in the favor of the people of Southern California. That isn't possible except for a never relaxing interest on the part of the enterprising citizens of Newport and Balboa.

George Gunther suggested that when I was able to get out of town that I should spend a few days in San Francisco, inquisitively inflecting that "you've heard of the place, haven't you?" And when he went on to interpret the aerie meteorological moods of the city. He said in the morning you get up and tried to find the light and when you found the light you tried to find the kitchen. This difficulty was imposed by heavy fog. Then after breakfast you put on your coat and vest and started out. Along about noon you wondered why you put on your coat, and a little later took off your coat. Then you went to the nearest beach. About 3 o'clock you wondered why you didn't have your vest and at 4 o'clock wanted your coat. At 6 you heard the most commonest sound as the natives were breaking up the furniture to build a fire so they wouldn't freeze to death. Why, says George, they'll put paper vests at the drug stores. This is an actual experience, and may I venture some fear of an exaggeration but I couldn't prevent him from telling it.

And then there was the fellow who said he could always tell when he was going to have a desert wind by the sound of the locomotive whistles. They were shrill and loud. He said the approaching wind was carrying the sound seaward. And this same authority had a tree dahlia which gave fallible evidence of the obnoxious wind. What I have been trying to find out for a long time is the approach, but the presentation.

My conversations with orange growers show such a variation in results that even packing house managers would have difficulty armonizing.

And then there is the fellow who wings his car around the corner and gives more attention to the man than he does the pedestrians who are entitled to his observation and consideration. That will take the street car rule—that there'll be another one along in a few minutes. We still have a lot of tubes" with elastic necks.

It has been suggested, after a conference of a combination of laments, that the next time I take guest editor selections I get a milk man, the ice man, the laundry man, the suitor man, and what a man, to write the column. That leaves one to provide and in order to synchronize their ideas I'll throw in an undercover man. That will take the rest of the other vacation week which I am supposed to have come and may not take.

L. B. Harrison submits a confidential report on the condition of the nation, presumably as of even as there isn't any "at the service of business" on the card. It is a mathematical proposition, the answer reached by the process of elimination. However, do not take problem too serious, as there is plenty of objection to it. I start out with the population of the United States at 124,000,000 then deduct 30,000,000 for old pensions which leaves 94,000,000. There are 20,000,000 workers for federal, state, county and city governments which leaves 74,000,000. The ineligible to work for child labor laws is 60,000,000, which leaves 14,000,000; the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Local Levy 81 Cents
Inside Cities and
86 in Outside Areas

With welfare costs taking 30 cents out of every $100 of assessed valuation, county taxpayers prepared today to dig deep into their pockets for money to pay the man when he comes around next month.

A man with a $3000 house and lot, for instance, will pay $24.30 this year for county expenses alone if he lives inside a city. Add to that city, water district, cemetery, lighting, school, and other taxes—and the taxpayer will cut down on his Christmas presents.

Action of the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon wound up budget wrangling for the next year, with rates of 81 cents inside cities and 86 cents outside adopted. The difference between inside and outside rates includes a two-cent road tax and three cents for the county library.

Last year the rates were 62 cents inside cities and 64 cents outside cities, plus the 2-cent library rate.

School district taxes were also included in the tax rate set yesterday. They range from an assessment of 47 cents per $100 valuation in the El Toro district to $2.17 in Santa Ana, highest in the county.

Mounting Costs Worry
Public and Officials
In Other Counties

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—San Bernardino county's tax rate will be raised 26 cents to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation, the supervisors announced here.

Higher allotments are necessary for relief, old-age pensions and salary increases for employees in the lower brackets.

SAN LUIS OBISPO. (Special)—

An increase of over $1,000,000 in assessed valuation in San Luis Obispo county prevented the county tax rate from being increased. San Luis Obispo county's total general basic tax rate for this year was set at $2.44 per each $100 valuation by the county board of supervisors, the same as last year. The tax rate was increased 44 cents last year over the preceding year.

L. A. LOSES OUT
ON GAS TAX

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Councilman Stephen W. Cunningham said Los Angeles faces a shortage of $1,100,000 for street maintenance this fiscal year because the supervisors reduced the city's share of gasoline taxes.

Revolt Hits Pension
Plan for Los Angeles Teachers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A temporary injunction prevented the school teachers' pension system from becoming effective today.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Davis, a taxpayer, obtained an order late yesterday from the superior court restraining the county board of supervisors and school districts from budgeting $580,000 for the pensions. She contended the legislative act permitting such pensions is unconstitutional.

The legal action of Mrs. Davis came as the board of supervisors proposed to set a tax rate for Los Angeles 48 cents higher than last year.

The supervisors today are scheduled to set the new tax rate for the board of education at $1.70 on each $100 assessed valuation along with the setting of the general basic tax rate, flood control and other which would bring the city tax rate to $5.28 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

The injunction petition attacks the teachers' pension on the theory that the act permitting it adopted by the last legislature is unconstitutional in that it delegates legislative power to the school board which should be vested only in the legislature.

THREAT OF STRIKE HITS GROWERS

Packing Season Opens
Today in Navel Area

The citrus packing season opened today with Florida's biggest industry facing a strong unionization movement for the first time in its history, according to Associated Press dispatches received by The Journal today from Orlando, Fla.

The labor situation, holding a threat of loss to thousands of growers if strikes should intervene with movement of the perishable crop, has aroused grave concern within the Florida industry. Organizers for a new CIO union, the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America, have been working quietly throughout the fruit region in Florida for several months. Their goal is 70,000 members.

ALSO ACTIVE HERE

The same union has been carrying on organization activities in Orange county under the direction of Alfred Bollen, district CIO organizer. However, local officials feel that the Valencia season here is too far advanced to be threatened with labor difficulties this year, at least.

Any said whatever labor trouble is experienced in the Florida field will not affect movement or prices of local valencias. Labor trouble in Florida later on, however, may have some effect on marketing of valencias from this district. If shipments are held up there, navel orange local fruit might be higher, it was said.

MANY JOIN UNION

The Associated Press said that in Florida progress cannot be measured at present but some packing house operators acknowledged union enlistments have been extensive. Others minimize the movement and point to the difficulty of organizing seasonal, and in a large proportion, transient, labor.

The union setup at present consists of a temporary executive committee headed by George E. Jackson, chief organizer. When the organization is further advanced, a state convention will be called to name a permanent executive committee to draft wage and these have not been indicated.

MEETING DELAYED

A mass meeting had been scheduled for Labor day but was cancelled last week, Jackson explaining that "We do not want to cause any trouble." Postponement of the public rally confirmed some growers in opinion previously expressed that the union would hold its fire until the shipping season reaches its peak, in late November or December. Meanwhile the operators are following a policy of watchful waiting. Some have posted wage increases for this season.

YOUTHFUL FLIER CHEATS DEATH

Experience gained while learning to fly a plane at the Fullerton Municipal airport had proved today to be the life-line of Henry Besseliere, 19-year-old Fullerton boy, who made a forced landing at Crystal Cove about 6:30 last night.

Young Besseliere, who lives at 324-B North Balcom street, was flying from San Diego from the Fullerton airport when his Waco-9 bi-plane developed motor trouble. The youthful flier settled his plane down on the inland slope of a steep hill near the Coast highway without damage. The plane he was piloting belonged to Lloyd Wardfield, Brea.

Ces James, manager of the airport and who taught Besseliere to fly, told The Journal that the youth has 35 hours of solo flying to his credit. He has an amateur pilot's license.

Sam Wo Woeful But He's a Patriotic Gent

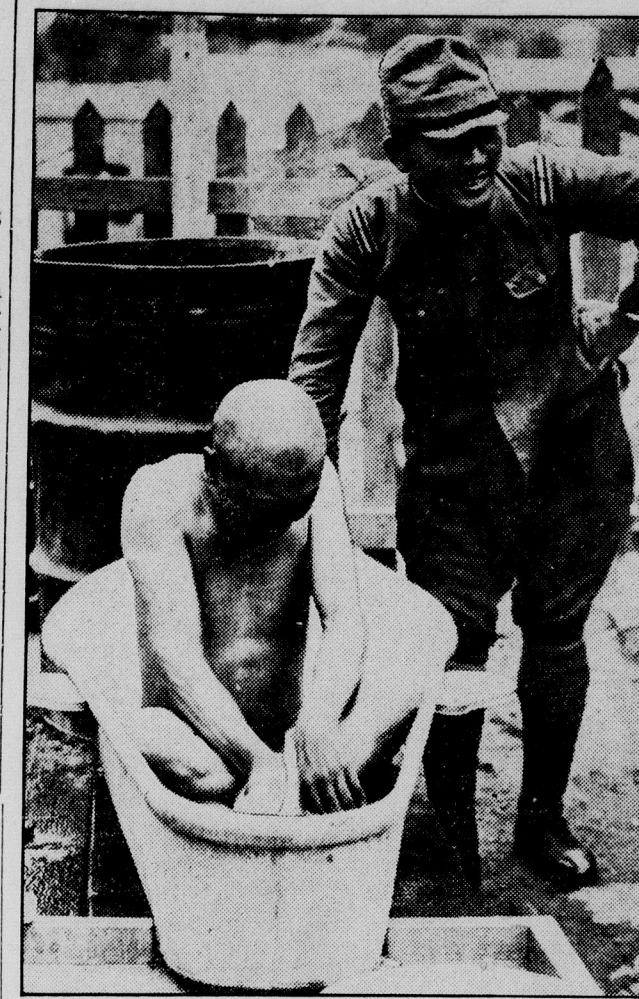

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—They no longer picket Sam Wo's little Chinatown cafe. The pickets, a solemn group, appeared last night and Sam Wo, bewildered, read their huge banners.

"Do not patronize Sam Wo. Sam Wo is unfair to Chinese. Sam Wo sells Japanese made goods you say."

Quickly Sam Wo inspected his stock of the flavoring. The signs spoke the truth. Promptly and publicly he destroyed the goods. The pickets dispersed.

Said Sam: "I very patriotic gent. I not know gow was Japanese. I get Chinese gow you toy—better gow anyway."

3 U. S. Ships Set For Dash to Aid China Refugees

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Three new heavy cruisers, loaded with emergency stores, were expected to start a race across the Pacific today to join the U. S. Asiatic fleet at Shanghai.

A spokesman for Vice-Admiral William T. Tarrant, commander of the scouting force, declined to deny or confirm that secret orders had detached the San Francisco, Quincy and Tuscaloosa—cruiser division seven—for oriental duty.

Hurried loading of food, fuel and military supplies here on the three cruisers was in progress last night.

Displacing 10,000 tons, they mount nine 8-inch guns and eight 5-inch guns, and carry complements of 551 officers and men.

Regarded as the most powerful American fighting unit of its type of the seas, the cruisers are protected by 5-inch armor belts and cruise 33 knots at top speed. Commanders are Capt. R. C. Parker, San Francisco; Capt. W. F. Amsden, Quincy; and Capt. Randall Jacobs, Tuscaloosa.

NAVY MAY AID U. S. REFUGEES

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—Summer White House officials said today the United States government would rely on existing naval vessels in the Far East to evacuate Americans still in danger zones.

The announcement was made following a conference between President Roosevelt and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, at the Roosevelt home.

Officials said the President and the high naval official went over the "whole problem" in the Sino-Japanese situation. They added there was no need for additional naval vessels at Shanghai and vicinity.

Williams quoted Mrs. Lucy Winstead, the child's grandmother, as saying Eunice had left Charlie and gone back to the home of her father, Lewis Winstead.

The grandmother also was quoted as saying that Charlie had "littered" declaring he was going to Illinois.

BRITAIN, U. S. MAY DEFEY JAPAN FLEET

2 Nations May Force
Passage Down River

SHANGHAI. (AP)—United States and British naval commanders considered today uniting their strength to resist any attempt to molest refugees on Shanghai's waterway to the sea.

They discussed a convoy plan to force an open and safe path down the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers—both choked with Japanese warships—after Japan had warned all foreign shipping to steer clear of her naval concentrations there.

With the international city hemmed in by fighting, the Yangtze and Whangpoo are the foreigners' only hope of escape. Japanese threatened meanwhile to accelerate the spread of the undeclared war, steadily engulfing all of sprawling China. Japanese naval commanders said they were prepared to launch air raids against all Chinese airdromes and military bases. Yesterday, Japanese planes bombed such bases in the far south, around Canton.

FIGHTERS BOGGED DOWN
Japanese advances from the north indicated an imminent major battle at the important Yellow river barrier to Central China. An irregular Chinese army was reported to be waiting with overwhelming numbers for two Japanese columns, pressing south from Tientsin and Peiping, with superior armaments and equipment.

Chinese reports, however, declared the highly mobile Japanese army has bogged in rainy season mud and still on the defensive.

The United States Dollar liner President Hoover, scarred by a Chinese aerial attack at sea, reached Kobe with a dead seaman. High officials at Washington intimated that a naval order closing Shanghai to American merchantmen would be lifted.

The Japanese naval authorities further announced that developments might compel their fleet to take stringent action to stop shipments of arms and munitions to China from foreign nations.

BATTLE ON WHANGPOO
Heavy fighting swept the Whangpoo's banks from the northern edge of the city to Wousung where it meets the Yangtze, 100 miles north of the international settlement.

A terrifying series of great fires roared in Shanghai tonight, kindled by the naval guns and aerial bombs of Japan's big offensive against all of China.

The blazes, one of them in Soochow creek area facing the American-defending sector of the international settlement, formed a magnificent and awful background for a military drama.

Twenty-one Japanese destroyers and cruisers pumped shells into the Chapei and Kiangwan sectors of Shanghai's north end. Japanese warplanes rained bombs on Chinese positions.

JAPAN TAKES WOUSUNG
Wousung, Shanghai's historic defense post at the wide river bend where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze, already was in Japanese hands. But the hard-pressed Chinese were fighting on with unmatching courage and tenacity, holding firmly to many important positions.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

I don't want to keep harpin' on it all the time, but dog-gone it, I do know that families in small towns are closer than those in the city. In the city, it seems the men are more interested in their business than they are in their own children.

I know a friend of mine who's a big business man and hardly ever sees his children. He sends 'em away to military school in the winter time and out to some recreation camp in the summer and he never lets his children come down to his place of business because he don't want 'em bothering him.

Back home I've got an uncle who's a barber and his boy not only hangs around the barber shop all the time but he takes an interest in his father's work. I'll never forget the time the boy saw a stranger comin' into the shop and he says, "Papa, here comes a stranger—let me practice shavin' him" and my uncle says, "All right, son, you go ahead and practice on him but be careful—don't cut yourself."

BUILDING AND POSTAL INCOME IN SPURT HERE

PERMITS FOR 8 MONTHS
NEAR MILLION

Building and business continued to boom in Santa Ana during the past month, it was shown today in monthly reports on building permits and postal receipts.

Santa Ana's building program continued to expand, and at the end of the first eight months of the year 799 building permits had been issued with a total valuation of $920,629. This is a gain over the same period for last year of nearly $200,000.

Skyrocketing postal receipts during the past month reflected constantly improving business conditions in this city. Figures announced today by Postmaster Frank R. Harwood revealed that postal receipts for the past month aggregated $15,180.41 as compared with $13,802.04 for the same month in 1936.

HOUSING NEED

Need of this city for increased housing facilities was reflected in a big gain in construction of dwellings. During the first eight months of this year 112 homes have been constructed and 153 altered. During the same period last year there were but 71 rest.

MUSEUM OPENS THURSDAY

Cleaned, moth-proofed and featuring a new display of jewelry which once belonged to the late Donna Francisca Sepulveda, the Charles W. Bowers Memorial museum on North Main street will be reopened tomorrow after a month's shut-down. Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator, said today.

Highlight of the new jewelry display is a pair of hand-hammered and hand-decorated gold bracelets with angles made from the hair of the late Don Jose Sepulveda and his wife. The exhibit was donated by Mrs. Georgia Vanderleek, San Juan Capistrano, and granddaughter of the famous Spanish pioneer.

Several new cases have been added to the museum during the August shutdown, and exhibits have been cleaned and rearranged. Mrs. Coulter said.

Tiernan Stabbed Again by West

Supervisor N. E. West had stuck the official knife into the Tiernan Typewriter company again today, leaving the company holding the sack for $148.38 worth of service, repairs and materials furnished courthouse offices. West marked the Tiernan claim "denied" last week. The Journal learned today, although the matter was not brought up for action or discussion by other supervisors.

He denied the claims because, he said today, the Tiernan firm has no contract with the county for maintenance, and therefore needs authorization from the purchasing department before it can do such office equipment business. A squabble over an L. C. Smith typewriter requested by Auditor W. T. Lambert is now in the courts, where an appeal ruling is awaited.

Lambert won the first round against West in his mandamus action against purchasing agent Eugene Fennel when Superior Judge G. K. Scovel upheld his right to request the type of equipment he needed.

According to the investigation, a hose had been attached to the exhaust of a car parked in the garage of Irwin's home, 810 East Chapman street. Mrs. Dunn's body was discovered this morning by Bernard Love, an employee of Dunn, who was looking for her.

Members of Mrs. Dunn's family told authorities that she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Her husband has been in ill health for the last year, and has been confined to his bed for the past six weeks.

Mrs. Dunn had been taking care of her husband during his illness, at their home, 907 North Topeka street, Anaheim.

Two small children survive, the oldest being about three. The body was taken to the McAulay and Suters Funeral home in Fullerton. No inquest will be held, Abbey said.

Mrs. Wakeham Funeral Tomorrow

The Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, will officiate at funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth S. Wakeham, local pioneer resident, to be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the Smith and Tutthill chapel.

Before her death on Monday, Mrs. Wakeham was prominent in activities of the Episcopal church, of which she was a member. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

The love bug continued to bite numerous persons today, as County Clerk J. M. Backs announced his marriage license bureau had dashed out 467 licenses during August—a gain of 18 over the same month last year, in which 449 were issued.

Total for 1937 so far passed the 3000 mark during the month, reaching 3108 when the bureau closed at 5 p. m. yesterday. Last year at this time the total was 2943

Vacancies on Faculty Also Filled Today

Groundwork for the purchase of a tabernacle owned by the Seventh Day Adventist church and for its subsequent transfer to the Lathrop Junior High school grounds, where it would be used as an auditorium, was laid by the city board of education in a special meeting this noon.

Three resolutions authorizing advertising for bids on the purchase, moving and equipment for the auditorium were approved by the board and the district attorney's office will be commissioned to draw up the advertisement.

McCOY REPLACED

The board also appointed Guy M. Harvey, Santa Ana youth who has been doing graduate work at U. C. L. A. and U. S. C. for the past three years, to succeed Val Jean McCoy, who resigned late last week to accept a post in a Houston, Tex., university, in the social science department of the high school at a $1500 yearly salary.

Miss Lulu B. Finley was granted a one-semester extension of her leave of absence, and she will be replaced in the high school English department by Miss Lota Blythe, who will be transferred from Lathrop Junior High school. Miss Blythe's place will be taken by Mrs. Gladys M. Close, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan and U. S. C. and a teacher with three years' experience. Her salary will be $1700 a year.

TEACHERS ELECTED

Two elementary and two junior high school teachers' elections were approved. The new teachers follow:

Miss Laura Faye Thompson, a 1937 U. C. L. A. graduate, first grade at Delhi Mexican school, $1200 salary; Miss Mary Wright, graduate of Whittier college and Broadmoor teachers training institution, fourth grade at Logan school, $1200; George A. Barth, Santa Barbara state college graduate who has taught one year at Black Foxe Military academy, shop and academic work at Lathrop school, $1350; and Maxson Weide, Santa Barbara state graduate, who has taught eight years at Montecito, shop and academic, Lathrop school, $1650.

PREVIEW LURES FILM GROUP

A "sneak" preview staged by the Walter Wanger studio at the Broadway theater last night brought a group of film notables to this city.

The picture previewed was "Stand-In," with Joan Blondell, Leslie Howard and Humphrey Bogart. It was a romantic comedy centering about Hollywood film life.

Officials who came here included Tay Garnett, director; Jene Towne and Graham Baker, writers of the photoplay; Otto Lovering, film editor; Alex Gottlieb, publicity director, and Dan Keefe, general production manager.

It was the first time the picture had ever been previewed. From Santa Ana it was flown to New York for its second preview.

"TENSION RELIEVED"

SECRETARY ROGER SAYS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Roper, saying "tension has been relieved" in the Shanghai area, predicted today that American merchant vessels would be "given access to Chinese waters."

Discussing navy orders to American merchant vessels to stay out of the war-torn Shanghai area, Roper told his press conference that no orders had been issued withdrawing American passenger and cargo vessels from Chinese waters.

He added that after the bombing of the S. S. President Hoover, the navy had stated "that merchant vessels should not enter Chinese waters under the conditions then existing."

"However," Roper added, "tension has been relieved and it is my opinion that merchant vessels will be given access to Chinese waters."

Roper declined to say when American cargo and passenger ships might be permitted to go freely into China waters again. It was expected, however, it would be soon.

The Japanese government, Roper said, has "very definitely stated" that its embargo against China will be enforced only against Chinese vessels.

dences built and 118 altered. So far this year $488,585 has been expended for construction of new homes, while in the same period last year but $353,090 was spent.

These facts were obtained today from a report by Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen. The spurt building is taking this year is shown by the fact that permits issued so far in 1937 amount to $920,629, as compared with but $721,961 at the same time last year.

This is an increase of nearly $200,000 this year over last. The 799 permits issued so far this year compare with 457 issued at the same time last year.

PAST MONTH

During the month of August, 1937, a total of 103 permits were issued, with a valuation of $116,278. This compares with 49 permits issued during the same month of last year, which had a total value of $184,340. Last August's permits, however, include a $96,488 school construction job, which made the total high for that month.

During August of this year 15 permits were issued for residences and garages, 19 for alteration of residences and garages, two for business buildings, six for alteration of business buildings, two for apartments, one for an auto court, one for a handball court, six for private garages, three for altering and repairing private garages, and 48 for re-roof jobs.

POSTAL GAIN

Postmaster Harwood pointed out that it is significant that a gain of $1378.37 was recorded this August as compared with last August, because of the fact that there was a primary election in August of last year, which brought about a big share of the increase in receipts that month. This August, without the election, a big gain was scored.

Figures on the first two months of the third quarter for this year were $30,264.10, while during the same period last year the total was $27,546.98. This represents a gain of $2717.12.

During the first eight months of 1937 the postal receipts totaled $115,626.98, while during the same period of 1936 they amounted to $106,140.36. The gain so far this Woosung suburbs were occupied by Nippon's warriors after hand-to-hand fighting. Time and again waves of Japanese attackers, bayonets gleaming, charged the Chinese lines. Finally the defenders fell back.

UNLOAD SUPPLIES

Thus Japan gained revenge for her early defeats at Woosung in 1932, but only at heavy sacrifice. For the first time Japanese artillery reinforcements moved into the international settlement. Four-inch and six-inch guns mounted on caterpillar tractors, rumbled into Yangtzeport, a part of the settlement.

Japanese unloaded tons of war supplies from three steamers. Additional Japanese troops landed at Wayside wharf in Shanghai. Regular army units replaced exhausted Japanese blue-jackets in the Hongkong sector at the north of the international area.

Eight Japanese ships heavily laden with troops and supplies arrived at Woosung from Japan. Escorted by warships, one of the transport vessels steamed up the

In the Lotien sector 12 miles northwest of Shanghai, Chinese regulars held their own against Japanese attacks. Chinese military sources said the Japanese there suffered heavy losses.

COUNTY WAGE REVISION DUE FRIDAY?

Board Orders Salary Ordinance Drawn

County salary adjustments, which have looked like about the same thing as the end of the rainbow for courthouse workers, may materialize Friday, perhaps.

Department heads were again called on the supervisory carpet today. They were asked to classify their employees under the A, B, and C classifications set down by the board, with each class having a salary range according to experience and the job.

It has been seven months since Supervisors U. E. West and John Mitchell were named by Chairman Willard Smith to bring in recommendations for salary revisions, restoring part of the 15 per cent cut employees took during the depression.

MANY PROMISES

It has been more than two months since Mitchell submitted his recommendations, while West was on a lobbying trip to Washington. For weeks the revisions have been promised.

Finally the board has almost decided on action. They met Monday afternoon, and plan to meet again Friday afternoon for possible action.

The rainbow's end has come so close now, however, that District Attorney W. F. Menton has been requested to draw up a salary ordinance for the board.

EQUALIZING MOVE

This, when filled in with the pay to be given employees, may assist the exchequer of many a $75-a-month courthouse worker, cut down cigarettes for several department heads, and equalize similar work with similar pay.

At least, that's what several hundred employees hope. They've been hoping for something to happen since February.

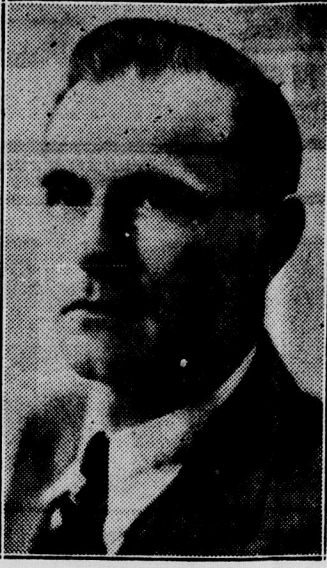

Avert Imperial Water Strike

EL CENTRO. (AP)—A threatened strike of water workers in California's Imperial Valley and Lower California has been postponed, pending arbitration of difficulties by Antonio Villalobos, Mexican minister of labor.

Union workmen on the Mexican section of the canal supplying Colorado river water to ranchers in the area agreed with the Lower California Land and Water company to compose their dispute until Villalobos arrives next week.

The strike of 160 canal workers would have caused a water shortage to 80,000 residents of the Imperial Valley.

Enters Insurance

HOMER CHANEY

Hays, Hudson and Bradstreet, Southern California general agents for the New England Life Insurance company, today announced the affiliation of Homer C. Chaney with their organization.

Chaney has been prominently identified with the business and civic life of Orange county. Until a year and a half ago, he was connected with the First National bank in Santa Ana, first as assistant trust officer and more recently served in an executive capacity in the commercial department. In February of 1936 he obtained a leave of absence from the bank to accept a position as forum director in the department of education for the government.

Chaney has served on the city council, and has been deputy district governor of Lions International, as well as president of the local service club. He is a member of the Masonic lodge, the American Legion and a former treasurer of the Community Players.

He will be connected with the Orange county branch office of the insurance company at 408 North Sycamore street, Santa Ana.

Suit Over Fizz Water Submitted

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel today had under submission a suit by Walter Kaufmann, Balboa island liquor store proprietor, against Anton and Mina Hershey, operators of a grocery store next door.

Kaufmann asked rescission of the lease he gave the Hersheys, on grounds that they sold carbonated water and thus interfered with his business. In a lease introduced in evidence at yesterday's trial, the Hersheys purportedly had agreed not to sell siphon bottles of "fizz water."

Hershey denied on the stand yesterday that he had sold sparkling water.

BENDIX AIR RACERS SET FOR DASH

Speed Pilots Gather In L. A. for Start

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The majority of entrants in the Bendix speed dash across the continent, starting early Friday, were on the ground today.

Officials have suspended a regulation requiring all planes to be here 48 hours in advance of the getaway and pilots now may qualify if they arrive any time before tomorrow night. Inclement weather slowed up some of the contestants who were speeding here from Eastern points.

Lard luck that kept Col. Roscoe Turner, holder of the Bendix record, out of last year's race pursued him yesterday and he was grounded at Albuquerque, N. M., by engine trouble.

Other arrivals included Earle Ortmann, who has attained a speed of 300 miles an hour in a climb without the throttle wide open. Some experts believe Ortmann has the fastest ship in the race.

E. C. Sendorph and his co-pilot John Yost, are here from the East. Mile Burham, former stunt flier brought in F. C. Hall's transport plane that has a cruising speed of 235 miles an hour. Hall was the backer of the late Wiley Post.

Jacqueline Cochran's plane has been given final adjustments, and she, as the only woman contestant, will be flying the same green biplane that established two world records.

Although the definite entry list will not be known until tomorrow, 15 fliers are expected to start from Union Air Terminal, Burbank, the first shortly after midnight Thursday.

BENDIX RACER HAS CRACKUP

NEW YORK. (AP)—Maj. Alexander P. De Seversky, speed, war and stunt flier and head of the Aircraft corporation which bears his name, was shaken up today when his racing monoplane was wrecked in landing at Floyd Bennett field, preparatory to a take-off for Los Angeles.

The major was able to limp away from the wreckage, but the plane caught fire and was badly damaged.

Johnny Goes Marching Off to School

SOON the school bells will be ringing over the land. Soon Johnny and Janice, scrubbed and combed and brushed, will go off to the serious business of Reading and 'Riting and 'Rithmetic.

But, before they go, there is serious business for Mother too: She must select the children's outfits. In this work, advertisements can help her as nothing else can! They enable her to plan her shopping before she leaves the house. They point out bargains. They remind her of items she might otherwise forget. They make her task EASIER, more ECONOMICAL, more THOROUGH.

Have YOU made a list of the things the children will need for school? Does that list include galoshes or rubbers? A new lunch box? A school bag, or stap for their books? A raincoat? Pads and pencils? Hats and suits, and a young man's topcoat? Perhaps a watch for the "10 o'clock scholar"?

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER E. ROBB

This column's birthday is past but here are some other messages which, in fairness to all, the writer is printing. It was a real birthday party which the readers of this column made possible by the many messages sent the writer, all of which will be kept through the coming years and treasured by him.

The first tonight is a message from Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Yerger, 1007 West Camille, Santa Ana. It follows, somewhat abbreviated as have been nearly all which appeared in this column. They write: "We appreciate and enjoy your column and in our judgment you have done wonderful work for the Townsend cause during the past year, bringing its final culmination nearer."

Here's a message from J. W. Wood, 615 West Second, Santa Ana. "Dear Mr. Robb, it was one year ago that I saw your first article in The Journal under the title 'Townsend News, Views.' I am sure all Townsendsites enjoy reading them. Yours for the Townsend plan."

Mr. Wood is the custodian of Santa Ana Townsend hall and a hard working member of Santa Ana club No. 5.

From two Tustin club members comes this appreciated message: "Dear Sir: Two more readers wish to express their appreciation of your column. We read it daily and wish you many returns of the day. We feel encouraged and hope we may all stick together until the plan goes over. We also appreciate the friendly attitude of The Journal. Sincerely, Mrs. Harriet Flattery and Mary E. Flattery."

Mrs. F. A. Goldstein, 1953 East Chapman, Fullerton says: "Dear Mr. Robb, we are very much interested in your column and its Townsend articles appearing in The Santa Ana Journal daily. We think it should be of vital interest to every one."

From Mrs. Margaret Culver, aged member of Santa Ana club No. 2, is the following: "Dear Mr. Robb, I have already told you how much I think of your column in The Journal and also of your work as a speaker for the plan. May our Heavenly Father give you strength and health to carry on to the end. I always turn to your column the very first thing and I sure enjoy it very much." Mrs. Culver is past 80 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Sparks, 427 West Washington, Santa Ana, send the following: "Dear Mr. Robb, We never miss reading your Townsend column. We want to congratulate you on this your first anniversary. Many who first opposed the plan are 'seeing the light' now through reading in the daily papers."

From Mr. and Mrs. J. Le Bard comes a very beautiful birthday greeting card wishing the writer many "Happy Returns of the Day." Both the card and the message are deeply appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Everett, 443 East Amerige, Fullerton write: "We congratulate you on your column's first birthday. Its the first thing we read in The Santa Ana Journal, which we think a good newsy paper." Mrs. Everett is president of Fullerton club No. 1.

At 6:45 tonight in Santa Ana Birch park will be held another Townsend meeting with Ernest Berry of Los Angeles as the speaker. At 8 p. m. the WPA band will give a concert. And over in Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street, the Orange county Townsend Club Officers' association will hold its regular monthly meeting. There are three good reasons why Orange county Townsendsites should journey into Santa Ana tonight.

Mrs. Anna J. Lowe, member of Santa Ana club No. 3, which meets at 7:30 tomorrow night in Townsend hall, writes this column saying: "Here's wishing you everything birthdays can give, to make your joys brighter the longer you live." She adds, "I certainly appreciate your news in The Journal." Her message was sent on a beautiful card.

H. D. Anderson, Santa Ana, sends this greeting: "Birthday greetings to the Townsend column and appreciation of your earnest endeavor in behalf of our objective." (Signed) "A Townsendsite."

From the writer's true friend, S. A. Clark, 2202 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, the strongest man of his age in the United States, comes a wonderful message of appreciation. Here are some of its highlights: "Congratulations on your column's first birthday with the grand old Townsend plan. I think it a Christ-like movement. He fed the people by the thousands and Dr.

ORANGE PAYS TRIBUTE TO D. C. PIXLEY

The city of Orange paid final tribute yesterday afternoon to one of its best known citizens, De Witt Clinton Pixley, who died Saturday evening at his home, 192 North Shaffer street, Orange, at the age of 80.

The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, a former pastor of the Orange Christian church, and now located in Long Beach, officiated, and chose as his theme the life of a Christian gentleman, to which he likened the deceased. He compared his life with that of Barabaras, who always encouraged the young men and was ready to lend a helping hand.

Words are inadequate to express the deep feelings of residents of the community in appreciation of Mr. Pixley's good works, the Rev. Mr. Minck said.

Mr. Pixley was a founder of the Orange Christian church, and served as a deacon for 54 years. He was one of the founders of Chapman college, Los Angeles, a church school.

The church was filled with friends and relatives, including Masonic lodge members and the city council. More than 100 floral pieces banked the altar.

Mrs. Leon Des Larzes sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "The City Four-square," accompanied on the organ by Otis Ingle.

Pall bearers were C. J. Hessel, J. A. Campbell, M. E. Bivens, M. E. White, J. A. Brown and Rob Atherton. The Masonic order, under the direction of Robert Bunch, conducted graveside rites at Fairhaven cemetery.

TO AIR DAIRY FEUD FRIDAY

Costa Mesa's dairy feud will reach the trial stage tomorrow, as Earl Volberding, owner and manager of the Kiser dairy, goes on trial in Newport justice court on malicious mischief charges.

Volberding is charged by E. R. Williams, proprietor of the Williams dairy, with stealing and destroying Williams dairy milk bottles. As a result, Williams alleged, he was arrested several weeks ago on charges of using bottles belonging to other dairies.

Found guilty of that charge, Williams again was haled into court on charges of "jumping" a wire around an electric meter. He was fined $50. Williams signed the complaint against Volberding last week after telling his story to Assist. Dist. Atty. James L. Davis.

Volberding is free on his own recognizance pending trial tomorrow. He has pleaded not guilty and will be defended by Ridley Smith, Santa Ana attorney.

WERNERS FACE BRIBE CHARGE

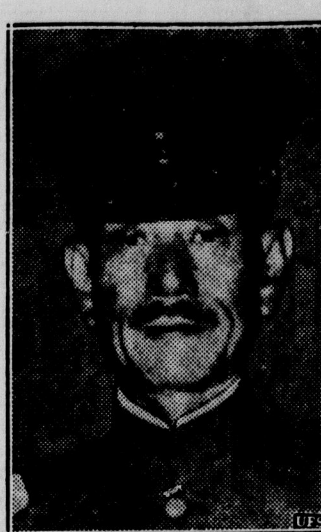

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Helen M. Werner, long an outstanding figure in Los Angeles politics, and her husband, Erwin P. Werner, former city attorney, were ordered to appear in court today for arraignment on charge of soliciting a bribe and attempted grand theft.

The couple were indicted late yesterday by the county grand jury. Judge Charles Fricke set their bonds at $2500 each.

Principal witness at the grand jury session was William P. McNeil, at whose home the Werners were arrested last Friday. Eugene Williams, deputy prosecutor, questioned McNeil, and said he told of giving the Werners a sealed envelope purportedly containing $10,000, but actually holding only a few $1 bills, and a pad of paper cut the size of currency. The district attorney's office charges the money was offered to "fix" a criminal case pending against McNeil.

FROSH 'BIBLE' ON PRESS

Under editorship of Dick Phillips, sophomore, the Santa Ana Junior college student handbook is now being printed in the college Fine Arts Press.

The small booklet will be issued to all incoming students during Freshman Days, Sept. 7, 8, and 9. It will be used as the "Frosh Bible," which every incoming freshman is required to carry according to college custom.

The bible contains all information concerning the college and its social and extra-curricular activities, along with additional information. Other material covered includes the college constitution, a list of Associated Student officers, and a calendar of events.

Each year the booklet is published by the college press and is distributed among the students. It will be given new students along with the freshman "beanies" which all new students must wear on penalty of being haled into "Kangaroo Court" later in the year.

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT PLEA IN VAIN

County Unable to Aid Property Owners

Hangover from the lush days of 1929, an assessment district still paying off a large debt on a practically unused state highway was without relief from the county today.

Property owners along Chapman avenue and North Main street, former 101 highway before the opening of Santa Ana boulevard, presented a petition to the county supervisors yesterday afternoon, asking cancellation of the balance of their assessments and payment by the county of the amount from gas tax funds, under a new constitutional amendment passed last year.

PLEA IN VAIN

But their plea was in vain, because supervisors already have budgeted an anticipated $295,000 in gas tax funds for county roads, and any amount above that is promised cities who were left holding the bag for state funds this year by the board.

R. A. Marsden, head of the manual arts department of Fullerton Union High school, presented the property owners' petition, signed by 43 residents of three supervisorial districts.

Marsden himself owns 1.14 acres in the special assessment district, he said, and had to pay $1000.37 for the paving of the highway. Interest on the debt, he said, had amounted to $283.80 already, and it cost him $105 to borrow the money to meet his payments.

PROPERTY LOST

Fifteen persons have lost their property because of the heavy assessments, he said.

Outstanding on the original $37,000 charge to property owners, Marsden said, is $12,539.10 principal and $627 interest. Besides that, six per cent of the property is delinquent, with a cost of $966 before the debt can be retired, making a total of $14,132.24.

What hurts the overburdened property owners, Marsden pointed out, is the fact that neither Santa Ana boulevard nor Manchester avenue, the newest, widest and most-used highways in the county, cost anywhere near that amount in proportion.

PAID BY STATE

Santa Ana boulevard was financed by a general tax on Santa Ana, and Manchester was almost entirely paid for by the state.

Santa Ana boulevard left Marsden's district holding the sack in more ways than taxation, he pointed out. Where Orana was once a thriving community because of the large volume of traffic passing along the 101 highway, it now contains but few business establishments, and the wide, smooth highway is almost useless.

REPORTS PROWLER

Another prowler mystery was added to the police records last night when Robert Bray reported a suspicious visitor in the neighborhood of his home at 939 West Pine street. Police found no trace of the visitor.

HOW BEAUTY FORMERLY CLAD HER DAUGHTERS

OTHER-DAY BEACH BEAUTIES—Atlantic City's contest on Sept. 7-12 to choose a "Miss America" for 1937, recalls styles in beauty and costumes of other days. Above are some of them. Probably the most interesting garb compared with modern bathing suits, is that of Miss Margaret Gorman of Washington, D. C. (top center), who won the contest in 1921. Her measurements were: Height, 5 feet 1 inch; bust, 30; waist, 25; hips, 32. Others were:

1924—Ruth Malmstrom of Philadelphia (lower center), height, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches; bust, 34; waist, 25; hips, 34.

1925—Fay Lampher of Los Angeles (upper right), height, 5 feet 8 inches; bust, 35; waist, 26 1/2; hips, 37 1/2.

1926—Norma Smilwood of Tulsa, Okla. (upper left), height, 5 feet 6 inches; bust, 33; waist, 25; hips, 34.

1936—Rose Veronica Coyle of Philadelphia (lower right), height 5 feet 4 inches; bust 34; waist, 23 1/2; hips, 34 1/2.

Just What Did Cities Win From County Gas Tax?

The cities' plea for a share of state gas tax funds was mixed up again today with the supervisors' idea of what, if any, the cities should get.

Following agreement last week between members of the board and city representatives, which included the understanding that if state allocations exceeded $295,000 the cities would get some money, came a letter yesterday from Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel, spokesman for the municipalities.

Kuchel understood cities would be allotted all the surplus, if any. Supervisors understood the excess would be split between the county and the cities. They decided to look up the minutes.

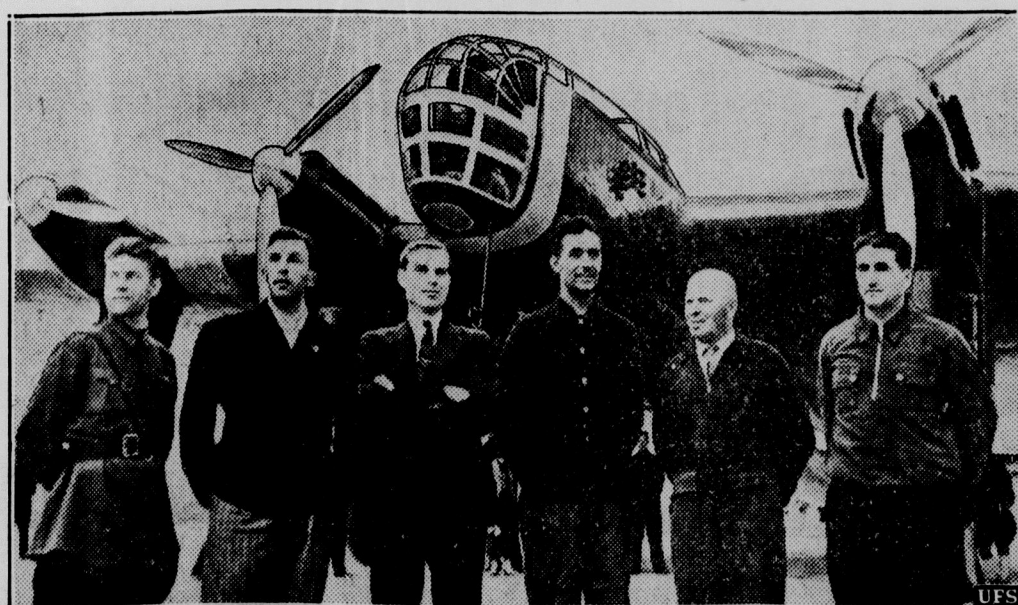

And anyway, remarked Supervisors John Mitchell, Harry Riley, and N. E. West, they "didn't want to commit themselves to anything definite."

Last week, however, they were

$100 FOR STAKES

To buy stakes, and tacks to put on the tops of the stakes, supervisors yesterday okeed a $100 appropriation for completion of a WPA survey of the Newbert protection district.

M'ADOO DENIES PARTY SPLIT

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—There will be no split in the Democratic party and no major third party, U. S. Senator William G. McAdoo declared in an interview today after returning from Washington by plane to spend several weeks at his home here.

"Despite the talk of a split in the Democratic party and of a third party, neither will materialize," he said. "The court fight divided the Democratic majority on that issue, but it did not destroy party cohesion."

Finley Returns To Board Meet

Supervisor Steele Finley of Santa Ana, absent from board sessions for six weeks because of a serious illness, made a surprise appearance at the board's session yesterday.

Walking with the aid of a crutch, Finley said he felt "much better" and took an active part in discussion. His recovery, he said, had been hampered because of a fall caused when he leaned for support on a rocking chair, which rocked and threw him to the floor.

Hospital Will Pay For Sewer Use

Settlement of a claim for $2086.90 for the county hospital's use of the Orange sewer line during the past 12 years was considered by supervisors yesterday, then put off at least until next week.

Meanwhile, board members considered future arrangements, which may be made when Orange withdraws from the outfall sewer district to build its own $70,000 sewage disposal plant instead of spending $125,000 on repairs to the outfall sewer.

A meter may be put in the line, or payment may continue on the basis of five per cent as in the present claim, the board was told by Supervisor Harry Riley.

Operation of the sewer for the past 12 years has cost $27,333.30, Riley said, and the hospital is expected to pay on the basis of having five per cent of the population of Orange, or about 400 out of 8000. Supervisors agreed the claim should be paid, but postponed action.

RUSS PURGE POINTED AT OFFICIALS

Young Communists May Face Execution

MOSCOW. (AP)—The Soviet government's purge of "enemies of the Communist regime" reached today into the Young Communist league and the collective farming setup.

High ranking officials of the Young Communist organization were shaken up on charges of corrupting the younger generation in drinking parties and permitting "enemies" to spread through the league.

Death sentences were handed down for seven confessed "rightist traitors" in agriculture, one of them a woman, for alleged plotting to wreck collective farming.

Death was demanded for 18 men in Azov, Black Sea province, and for 11 in Georgia for "ruining stock breeding industries" in that region.

The eleven put to trial in Georgia were accused of plotting an armed revolt of shepherds.

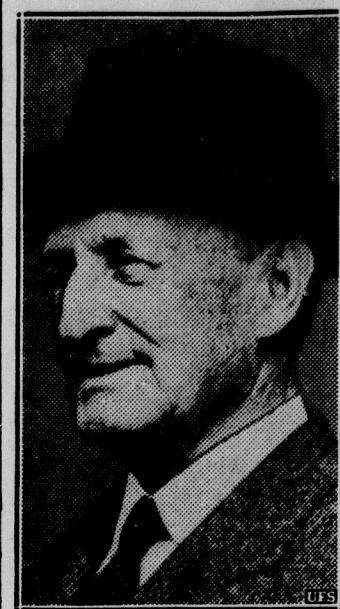

The purge took two women before a firing squad at Leningrad, convicted of poisoning food at a children's home. It was charged 12 children, ranging from eight to 11 years of age, were poisoned but their lives saved by prompt medical treatment.

TAX RATE FOR L. A. JUMPS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A county budget totaling $57,715,325 and calling for a tax rate of $1.41 per $100 of assessed valuation, an increase of 14 cents over last year, today had the approval of the board of supervisors. The total is $10,650,088 more than last year.

The budget, providing for $32,480,916 to be raised by taxation, was adopted at a meeting of the supervisors last night. The $1.41 tax rate is made up of 73 cents for charities and institutions, compared with 57 cents last year, and 58 cents for other county purposes, as against 64 cents last year.

BOMB WRECKS NEWS PLANT

BELLE CENTER, O. (AP)—A bomb explosion and fire today wrecked the publishing plant of J. E. Manahan, who prints under contract the American Examiner, Inc., a crusading weekly paper.

Sheriff Charles Bewley said he found in the wreckage of the building six flashlight batteries, wired together, and that they apparently had been used to set off a charge of high explosive.

Manahan at first said he believed an accumulation of gas might have caused the explosion, but after viewing the wreckage said he was convinced it was the work of bombers. He estimated damage at about $15,000, with $4500 covered by insurance.

STORM DRAIN MAY BECOME REFUGE

The West Anaheim storm drain, said to be a habitat of doves and quail, will become a state game refuge if the Izaak Walton league and the board of supervisors have their way.

Supervisors yesterday afternoon passed a resolution asking the state fish and game commission to declare the area a game refuge, following presentation of a petition from the Anaheim chapter of the Izaak Walton league.

Round-up!

Of UNSAFE WORN OUT TIRES

THOUSANDS of motorists are killed or injured—thousands of dollars are lost for repairs, doctor and hospital bills every year when blow-outs throw cars out of control.

Keep your name out of the accident columns. Many of the blow-outs you hear and read about altogether too often are due to the heat generated inside of tires by today's high-speed driving. This terrific heat may cause rubber and fabric to separate. And, if it does, an invisible blister forms. Bigger and BIGGER it grows until, sooner or later, BANG! You have a blow-out.

That's why Goodrich engineers invented the Life-Saver Golden Ply found only in Silvertown tires. This amazing Goodrich invention is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. By resisting this heat the Golden Ply protects you against these dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

Don't Gamble

The safe thing to do is to come in right now. Equip your car with Golden Ply Silvertown Tires all round. You pay no price premium for these life-saving tires and they'll give you months of extra trouble-free mileage.

Foreigner Threat In National Tennis Singles

SPORT SLANTS

By TOM (FAP) PAPROCKI

Despite the fact that Don Budge downed Baron Gottfried von Cramm in the Wimbledon and Davis cup matches a third meeting between this pair in the national singles championships would create tremendous interest.

The Baron is in the U. S. on his first visit. He is not convinced that Budge is his master on the tennis court.

STRIKES ON HIM

Von Cramm has two and one-half strikes on him already. The two defeats he suffered at Budge's hands abroad. The fact that Big Bill Tilden is picking him to defeat Budge as leading amateur player of the world. Tilden, a notoriously bad picker of tennis talent, has been naming von Cramm as the coming world champion for the past four years.

When Fred Perry stepped out of amateur ranks it was pretty generally conceded the German ace would take over the No. 1 post. Then Budge upset him.

VON CRAMM IS 28

The German ace tells you that he hopes to give Budge a real battle. You are certain he will. He looks fit. At 28, he should be at the peak of his game. His meeting with Budge is the main reason for his trip. At the same time he is remembering that when the smoke clears away after 1938 interzone Davis cup tests it is likely that Germany will be the challenger. In that case, the experience gained by competition on American courts this summer might come in mighty handy.

Northern Yachts in Catalina Regatta

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Three top-notch yachts from Northern California will invade the Pacific Coast-Southern California combined regatta opening Saturday at the Isthmus of Catalina Island.

The entrants are James Flood's "Dorade" of San Francisco, transatlantic and trans-Pacific champion yawl; Roy Corbett's 30-square meter sloop of Seattle; and Glenn Waterhouse's "Three Star Too" of Los Angeles.

After a strong start, Fontaine began weakening in the fifth round, and in the seventh a sweeping right to his jaw sent him down on one knee for one count.

Referee Jack Kennedy warned the Montanaro for butting, one of his head jolts hurting Arizmendi in the ninth round.

Campbell Smashes Motorboat Record

LOCARNO, Switzerland. (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, famed British sportsman, added the world's motorboat speed record to his international automobile speed standard today.

The 52-year-old Briton piloted his 23-foot speedboat, Bluebird, over Lake Maggiore's smooth waters at 125.795 miles per hour to eclipse Gar Wood's five-year-old mark of 124.86 miles per hour.

Sir Malcolm already holds the world automobile record of 301.3 m. p. h., set at Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah in 1935.

Sir Malcolm's aquatic Bluebird—his record-smashing automobile was called by the same name—was powered by a Rolls Royce aero engine and traveled over the measured mile course in smooth and effortless fashion.

With the land speed record already among his trophies, Sir Malcolm built his motorboat with the idea of lifting the water speed record as well. With that now in his grasp, the Briton might well turn to the air in his never-ending quest for new thrills. He was in the royal flying corps during the World War.

Bluebird's speed under the metric system was 202.57 kilometers per hour compared with Wood's 200.9. Wood established the former record at Algonac, Mich., Sept. 20, 1932.

Bluebird, designed by Fred Cooper, not only captured the world's record but also set up a new mark for single engine boats.

The previous record for this type of craft was 110.10 m. p. h., established by Hubert Scott-Paine's Miss Briton at Venice, Italy, in 1934.

Bluebird, perhaps the lightest unlimited hydroplane ever built, develops 2350 horsepower with the 12-cylindered Rolls Royce engine. The engine, incidentally, is the same one that powered Sir Malcolm's automobile Bluebird.

Wrestling Last Night

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.—Danno O'Mahoney, 218, Ireland, defeated "Mr. X," 215, New York, straight falls.

BALTIMORE.—Rudy Dusek, Omaha, and Nick Campofreda, New York, wrestled 48 minutes to a draw.

INDIANAPOLIS.—Everett Marshall, 220, La Junta, Colo., defeated Milo Steinborn, 225, Germany, two of three falls.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Bronko Nagurski, 235, International Falls, Minn., defeated Gino Garibaldi, 220, Italy. (Two straight falls.)

Bert Lewis, suspended two weeks ago, is eligible to ride tonight, and this alone points to a "natural" between Lewis and Dick Ince. Lewis drew his walking papers when he slugged Ince, following a disputed decision, and Ince is more than eager to show Bert that he can give the latter some smoke and dust.

Collegians Set for Pro Gridders

85,000 FANS SEE AERIAL WAR TONIGHT

Soldier's Field in Chicago Scene of Fourth Annual Tilt

By WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO. (AP)—Green Bay Packers, current last word in professional football accomplishment, will take their turn on the spot against selected college talent tonight before 85,000 fans at Soldier Field in the fourth annual all-star gridiron spectacle.

The Packers, like the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions, their predecessors in football's biggest one night stand, will defend the prestige of professional football against the collegiate brand. The all-star 65 huskies selected by more than 5,000,000 fans as the brightest stars of the 1936 college season, will be defending only their individual reputations, leaving most of the pressure on the professionals.

KUHN PLAYS TONIGHT

An Orange county boy, Gil Kuhn of Placentia, will be in the collegians' lineup against the Green Bay Packers tonight. Kuhn, who was graduated from Fullerton High school, captained and centered for the U. S. C. varsity last season.

Charles E. (Gus) Dorais of the University of Detroit, a specialist in forward passing, who also was selected by the fans to head the all-star coaching staff, has drilled his squad for 17 days, with most of the offensive sessions devoted to an aerial game built around "Slinging Sam" Baugh, Texas Christian's great sharpshooter. He had a host of other flingers at his disposal, notably Ray Buivid of Marquette, Vernon Huffman of Indiana, and big Sam Francis of Nebraska, but apparently has decided to leave the victory or defeat question up to Baugh.

Dorais will start the first eleven men named by the fans—a lineup which did not include Baugh—but after the opening kickoff will be at liberty to send in anyone on the squad, and Baugh is expected to make his appearance without much delay. The all star team which will be out there at the kickoff includes four members of the 1936 all-America, Gaynell Tinsley of Louisiana State, end; Ed Widest, Minnesota, tackle; M. Starkevich of Washington, guard; Averell Cammell of Pittsburgh, the other tackle, and Francis.

The Packers, who moved through their professional opposition last year with a combination of slam-bang running offense and a great passing game manned by Arnie Herber and Don Hutson, will send their best onto the field at the start.

FIGHTS Last Night

DETROIT.—Henry Armstrong, 131½, California, stopped Orville Drouillard, 134, Windsor, Ont. (5).

LOS ANGELES.—Baby Arizmendi, 130½, Los Angeles, outpointed Ritchie Fontaine, 128, Missoula, Mont. (10).

NEW YORK.—Johnny Pena, 127, New York, technically knocked out Willie Felice, 125½, New York, fourth round. (Felice unable to answer bell for fifth.)

ELIZABETH, N. J.—Al Roth, 135, New York, knocked out Chang Collura, 128½, New York, in 39 seconds of the third round.

British Promoter Agrees to Free Farr From Fight

Brig. Gen. A. C. Critchley, British fight promoter, said today he has telephoned his American representative to notify Tommy Farr, the Welsh boxer, he is willing to release Farr from the latter's contract to fight Max Schmeling in London Sept. 30.

Farr agreed to the Schmeling match before accepting terms to go to New York to meet Joe Louis.

ODDS and ENDS

Harry (Truck) Hannah, one of the smartest managers in the Pacific Coast league, is banking on sound manipulation of his pitching staff to carry the Angels in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

If Steve Mesner were able to hit in Wrigley field as he does on the road, he would be leading the league in batting. Away from home he has compiled an average of .364, while on his home field he is credited with a mark of around .300.

Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell, Bob Feller, Joe Medwick, and Charley Ruffing may be brought to the coast to appear in an exhibition game at Wrigley field. Jack Rothrock, now with the Athletics, and Jack Felster of Long Beach are working on the idea.

The Angels have defeated Oakland in 15 of their past 23 games—one of the closest rivalries in the Coast league.

Gerald Allen (Tex) Oliver, the University of Arizona's head football coach, who developed championship eleven at Santa Ana High school in 1931 and '32, has been in Chicago watching the workouts of the Green Bay Packers and all-star collegians for their game at Soldier's field tonight.

He was to have left Illinois last week-end, coming to Tucson, Ariz., and then to Santa Ana for a brief business trip. Oliver writes from Chicago: "Have seen a lot of great passers in the last 17 years, but this chap Sammy Baugh is in a class by himself. I was surprised to find that he is such a fine all-around player—third fastest of all the left halfbacks on the all-star college team, with only Riley of Alabama and Dye of Ohio State ahead of him. Gil Kuhn of Placentia and U. S. C. was bothered by a neck injury, but is all right now. He has looked fine, even though he is being used to back up the line, which he says he never did before. Dave Davis has been pitching strikes and is showing up mighty well. Hal Paige of Santa Ana and Bill Smith of Washington looked better than ever in a recent scrimmage of the Chicago Cardinals. Jim Phelan of Washington and Elmer Layden top the coaching parade at the art of wisecracking."

LOUIS UNABLE TO TRAIN FOR SCHMELING

Champion Must Rest Two to Six Months With Hand Injuries

DETROIT. (AP)—A defense of the heavyweight title against Max Schmeling this fall was announced as definitely out of the picture for Joe Louis today.

A rest of two months, possibly six, was recommended for Louis by physicians who studied X-ray photographs of the hands he injured in defending his title against Tommy Farr Monday night in New York.

No fracture was disclosed but the X-rays showed badly bruised muscles and tendons around the knuckles of the right hand and slightly less serious bruises on the left.

When the findings were telegraphed to John Roxborough, Louis' co-manager, in New York it was announced the Schmeling bout was definitely off for this fall.

"When I fight that boy I don't want to have to worry about my hands," said Joe. "I'll be glad to rest."

Dr. Chester C. Ames who studied the negatives said they explained 15 rounds of one-handed fighting by Louis.

The injuries to that right hand came from a crushing blow against a resisting object," Dr. Ames said. Louis said he injured his right hand when he missed a blow and landed on top of Farr's head.

After Roxborough's return to Detroit Friday Louis will leave for the summer home of Julian Black, co-manager, near the Indiana-Michigan Line.

DISTANCE WINS 50-LAP RACE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Peewee Distance, pushing his midgeet car to the limit, made a run-away race of the 50-lap feature at Atlantic speedway last night.

Taking command at the start, distance finished almost 20 yards ahead of Bob Swanson, who edged out Lou Schneider three laps from home.

Karl Young was fourth, Sam Hanks fifth and Fred Friday sixth. The time was 14 minutes 10.12 seconds.

Disaster threatened in the second heat race when Hanks, leading the field, spun coming out of a turn and was hit by Young. Mel Hansen rolled over. Roy Rusing missed the judges' stand by a twist of the wheel.

Brightens Stars

Jim Coates, the Stars' 1936 pride who pitched Visalia to the San Joaquin Valley league championship over Hanford last night, will return here today to join Santa Ana against San Bernardino in the Shaughnessy playoffs at the Municipal bowl tonight.

OILERS STOP ANAHEIM'S NINE, 3 TO 1

Chasing the usually effective Lyle Morse to cover in the second inning, Huntington Beach's Southern California champion Oilers got off to an auspicious start in the Shaughnessy playoffs in their own park last night.

Joe Rogers' merry men defeated Clair (String) McDonnell's Anaheim Valencias, 3 to 1, in the first of a four-out-of-seven-game series for the right to meet the winner of a similar playoff between Santa Ana and San Bernardino for the 1937 championship.

The second game will be played at Anaheim tomorrow night.

Leftfielder George Murray, riled over two decisions by Umpire Arch Hawkins, was ejected from the game in the first inning for arguing too strenuously, and the Oilers were forced to use a makeshift lineup.

Huntington Beach gained two runs in the first inning when Henry (Red) Thier, second baseman, led off with a single. He was sacrificed to second by Bill McKinley, and came around on two passed balls by the apparently rattled Morse. Or Schuchardt continued the rally with a single, but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. Al Rebohn walked, gained second on a passed ball, scored on Murray's single.

The Oilers increased their count to 3-0 in the second when Francis Conrad, going to leftfield when Murray was removed, singled. He was advanced by Bob Smith and Pete Osborne.

Anaheim ignited a short-lived rally in the first of the ninth, with George Preble drawing a walk and Randolph Bell belting a single. Leavitt Daley doubled to leftfield, scoring Preble. But Bell was thrown out at third, Conrad to McKinley.

Frank (Chico) Sabella of Huntington Beach was in rare form, striking out 12. Wilbur Stinchfield relieved Morse in the second, and pitched fine ball for Anaheim.

Rodgers plans to start Sabella again at Anaheim tomorrow night.

VISALIA STAR ADDS POWER TO SANTA ANA

San Bernardino Nine Target of Revenge For 7 to 0 Shutout

Jim Coates is back! Every ardent nightball follower knew what that meant today to Santa Ana's Stars, as they prepared for the invasion of San Bernardino's confident nine for the second game of the Shaughnessy playoffs inside the Municipal bowl at 8:15 tonight.

Coates, after pitching Visalia to the San Joaquin Valley league championship with a 6-5 win over Hanford last night, informed Manager "Doc" Smith by telephone that he would leave Visalia immediately and join the Stars tonight.

Jack Dugan will receive the No. 1 pitching assignment against San Bernardino, but Coates, a .375 southpaw hitter, will be sent to rightfield to bolster the Santa Anans on offense. He may pitch the third game of the four-out-of-seven-game series at San Bernardino Friday night.

Acquisition of Coates, Santa Ana's No. 1 gunner in 1936 who has remained a regular on Smith's roster, gives the Stars what all three other playoff rivals already have—a two-strike pitcher.

Huntington Beach has "Chico" Sabella and "Fuzzy" Errington. San Bernardino has Venn Botts and Bob "Lefty" Fowler. Anaheim has Lyle Morse and Wilbur Stinchfield, in addition to Clair "String" McDonnell.

Dugan was carrying the load alone until Coates' eleventh-hour acquisition.

Blanked 7-0 in the first game, Dugan will attempt a mound comeback against "Lefty" Fowler of San Bernardino tonight. Botts limited the Stars to three hits Monday night, and will be ready to relieve his ace southpaw.

Bob Schwarm, City league graduate who is a .350 hitter himself, will be temporarily on the sidelines tonight, but will go into center field if Fred Wiemer shows signs of an off night. Nan Coats will shift from right to leftfield.

The Santa Ana lineup: "Doc" Smith, 2b; Nan Coats, lf; Jim Coates, rf; Joe Wallin, c; Tom Young, 3b; Fred Wiemer, cf; Bob Mott, 1b; Charles Comstock, ss; and Jack Dugan, p.

San Bernardino's lineup: Fred Wiemer, 2b; Edaley, rf; Bill Swer, 1b; Glenn Kelley, c; Ray Shattuck, 3b; Rosy Gilhouse, lf; Dory Strain, cf; Wayne Watson, ss; and Bob Fowler, p.

There will be the customary 25-cent admission.

Outboard Drivers Prepared for Coast Title Race

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A dozen ranking Southern California outboard drivers will leave today and tomorrow for Lakeport, to compete in the Pacific Coast hydroplane and national runabout championships on Clear Lake Saturday and Sunday.

They include William Withington of Pasadena, Bill Downey of Long Beach, 1931 national champion; Tommy Ingalls, Wallace Francisco and R. V. Collins, Los Angeles; Bud Lundy, San Diego; Layton Murray, San Luis Obispo; Frank Verbeck, Pasadena, and Bill Schuyler, Longport, all challengers for the Pacific Coast hydroplane titles, and Herbert Remlinger, Culver City; E. L. Remelin, Burbank, and Espy Hal, Los Angeles, contenders for national runabout titles.

Winning drivers in the hydroplane events will go east for the national hydroplane championships at Richmond, Va.

MOTORCYCLISTS USHER IN FALL THRILL SEASON AT ATLANTIC

One of the season's most diversified motorcycle speed carnivals ushers in the fall thrill program tonight at the Atlantic boulevard stadium, Los Angeles.

Diversity comes in the long awaited side-car race between P. A. Bigsby, champion of the Pacific coast for nearly two decades, and his challenger, Eddie Hinkle of Huntington Park. Side car racing was new to Hinkle a year ago, he is regarded as packing a great future on the "three-wheelers," and he will have a fine passenger to balance the queer contraption in Jack Bechtold, San Pedro husky, who will attempt everything in the books to allow Hinkle to pass Bigsby and the latter's riding mate, Jack Nesbit. Five laps will be the distance of the side car sweepstakes.

Bert Lewis, suspended two weeks ago, is eligible to ride tonight, and this alone points to a "natural" between Lewis and Dick Ince. Lewis drew his walking papers when he slugged Ince, following a disputed decision, and Ince is more than eager to show Bert that he can give the latter some smoke and dust.

Hundreds died and hundreds more lived to suffer the agony of wounds. Those who escaped removed the dead and injured, as depicted in this copyrighted Associated Press photo flown to America by Clipper. Aerial destruction was carried out on a scale seldom if ever equalled in the history of war.

SCHOOLS WIN FIGHT TO GAIN COUNTY LOAN

TRANSFER OF
$60,000
IS ORDEREDFund Will Take Care
Of First Month

County schools rejoiced today, having won their long battle with supervisors for a loan of county money to carry on education through the "dry period" until taxes are collected.

Sixty thousand dollars in county funds will be transferred as needed to school district funds by County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson, carrying the schools through September for maintenance and operation. Next month there may be another allocation, and in November another if the county has funds on hand.

USE RESTRICTED

Supervisor John Mitchell, fearful schools might use the money for buildings or old debts, put through a clause in the transfer specifying the money was for maintenance and operation only. This clause, however, would be ineffective if schools wished to put through warrants for building. They would then, however, be forced to register warrants for their operating expenses, at a 5 per cent cost to the districts.

Schools needed $188,000, it was estimated, to carry them through until Nov. 30, when tax collection allocations are made to the districts. Yesterday's action, which makes it necessary for schools to pay 5 per cent on registered warrants for their bills, will carry the schools through this month.

Action came after more than a month of bickering between school officials and supervisors, led by Mitchell, who insisted the schools had been careless in budgeting their funds and should be forced under state law to provide reserves to carry them through the "dry period."

MOTION BY RILEY

Supervisor Harry Riley, who had been at meetings each time the subject was discussed, made the motion for the transfer.

"There has been a lot of talk about delaying this matter," Riley said. "But this is the first time anything of a definite nature as to the amount of money needed has come up."

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Arthur Corey smiled, explaining the estimate had been before the board for three weeks or more, and that Riley had been present when it was brought up.

County 'Dunned'
For Dredging

Supervisors yesterday got a polite "please remit" letter from the Newport Dredging company, but found it wasn't a bill, but after all that the bill wasn't paid.

The bill was for dredging the old Santa Ana river channel at Newport bay, and the job was marked "complete" last month. But the company, the board was told, had failed to file a notice of completion in the recorder's office, and the auditor's office had refused to honor the warrant until that was done. County Clerk J. M. Backs was to inform the company what is wrong, so the board won't find a collection agency on its doorstep next week.

SEEKS TO COLLECT

To collect on a $2182.02 judgment given him in Los Angeles municipal court in 1932, Timothy O'Neil yesterday filed suit in superior court here against Charles Coultis. O'Neil was awarded the judgment Sept. 29, 1932, he alleges, and Coultis paid him $182 on Oct. 28 of that year. He asks judgment here for $2008.52 plus interest.

Steel Strike-Rioters Upset Automobile

Rioting broke out in Pittsburgh at the strike-bound Heppenstall Steel company plant, injuring thirteen people, when strikers rushed cars carrying strikebreakers into the plant. Here a crowd gathers about one of the overturned cars. A crowd of more than 1000 swarmed about the plant and a barrage of stones, bricks and tools was hurled as the strikebreakers attempted to enter the gates to re-open the plant.

ASK UNDERPASS
AT COURTHOUSE

Maybe there'll be an underpass under North Broadway, so speeding cars won't clip off county employees as they cross from the courthouse to the annex.

But maybe there won't be, because Supervisor Harry Riley thinks the $4500 or $5000 it would cost would be better spent on a new building to replace the annex. The $5000 wouldn't go far, of course, but Riley is sure a new building is needed. So are all the other supervisors.

Chairman Willard Smith brought the matter up yesterday, indicating action should be taken soon if at all on the underpass because the city of Santa Ana will begin paving the street next week. Supervisors left it until next week for further consideration, however.

"There ought to be a law requiring people to stop for the pedestrian crossings," said one supervisor.

"There is," retorted Smith. "And it's against the law if they hit you, too."

None Injured in Three Crashes

Slight property damage was done in each of three Santa Ana traffic accidents yesterday, but no one was injured.

Two of the accidents involved Model T cars and one of these prompted issuance of three citations.

Virginia L. Brown, 15, driver of a car registered to Dale Weston Holmes, 166 East Twenty-second street, Costa Mesa, was cited on a charge of driving without a license after a collision on Shelton street. Holmes, a passenger in his car, was cited for failure to change his license and for a cloudy windshield.

Lesta Bernice Creath, 925 Lacy street, was involved in a collision with another Model T, driven by Francisco Mendez, 1907 West Second street, near the intersection of First and Sycamore streets.

Granite Spire on Hill To
Be Memorial to Will Rogers

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)

The saddle of a western horse, treading up winding Cheyenne mountain highway Monday will be empty.

The riderless horse will lead a procession of friends and admirers of the late Will Rogers up the mountain's slopes to the base of a 100-foot granite spire to be dedicated then as the Will Rogers shrine of the sun.

Spencer Penrose, mining and resort baron of Colorado Springs, erected the pink granite tower as a monument to the memory of his friend Rogers, the cowboy humorist, who died with Wiley Post, globe-circling aviator, in a plane crash in Alaska.

Penrose, who came to the west

a Harvard-bred tenderfoot and amassed a vast mining fortune, today following theft of a car from the eastward sweeping plains.

The story is that Rogers, many times guest at Penrose's sumptuous Broadmoor hotel, once saw the promontory splashed with incredible colors by the sun, breaking through thunderstorm clouds.

Penrose was impelled, so the story goes, by his memory of Rogers' speechless admiration of the crag's color display to build the pink stone spire at its top.

The dedication ceremony will be a solemn interlude during a traditionally boisterous and rollicking western rodeo, one of Rogers' favorite diversions. The rodeo opens Saturday.

BACKS BUSTLES
WITH BUDGET

County Clerk J. M. Backs has just three days to get the county budget to the state controller's office. Otherwise it costs him $1000 a day.

Backs called attention to the law yesterday afternoon following setting of county tax rates of 81 and 86 cents by the supervisors. Auditor W. T. Lambert said his office was working on a copy of the revised budget, which was adopted at some $117,000 less than original estimates. Lambert said his office would be through soon enough that Backs wouldn't have to start paying the daily $1000 fine.

Welfare Workers to Use County Cars

Welfare department visitors, who have been getting four and a half cents a mile for driving their own cars around the county, will begin switching over to county-owned cars before long.

Supervisors yesterday authorized purchase of four new automobiles at a price not to exceed $800 each, to be used by visitors who do the most traveling. The cars will be four-door sedans of one of the three so-called popular makes. County officials estimate a county-owned car can be operated for three and a half cents a mile.

Fullerton Schools
To Use Warrants

Fullerton schools, stuck with $100,000 in obligations for buildings under a PWA program, will pay off their contractors with warrants registered at six per cent.

Supervisors yesterday afternoon authorized sale of $100,000 in six per cent tax anticipation warrants on petition of Dan Harry, auditor for the Fullerton district.

Board Accepts
New Dormitory

The new dormitory at the county farm, erected at a cost of $18,732, was officially in county hands today.

Supervisors yesterday afternoon accepted the building after receiving a notice of completion from Architect Everett Parks.

FIND WRECK OF STOLEN CAR

Two youths with badly scratched faces were being sought by police today following theft of a car from the rear of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. The car later was found wrecked on Edginger street and Harbor boulevard.

The theft was reported by Theodore F. Baessler, 702 West Sixth street, who told police the car had been stolen between 9:30 a. m. and 3 p. m.

California highway patrol officers discovered the overturned car abandoned on Edginger street at 6:35 p. m., and said they believed two boys involved in the theft had fled to the river bed. At least one of the boys was seriously scratched in the wreck, marks on the abandoned car indicated.

Traffic Victim
Recovering

James Monroe, Cedar street, Westminster, was reported "recovering satisfactorily" in St. Joseph's hospital today from facial injuries received when he was struck by a truck assertedly driven by Philip Fairchild, Garden Grove, in downtown Westminster yesterday morning.

Monroe, who had proceeded halfway across an intersection on Westminster boulevard, apparently had become frightened by an approaching car and turned abruptly back toward the curb, running directly into the path of Fairchild's truck.

A sheriff's report said there was no indication of carelessness or negligence by the truck driver.

Fields Seeks
New Suit Trial

W. C. Fields' attorneys for a new trial of a suit in which he was ordered to pay a $12,500 doctor's bill, was under consideration of the superior court today.

Fields' counsel contended the evidence was insufficient to support the judgment in favor of Dr. Jesse Citron of Hemet, who attended the screen comedian in a prolonged illness last year.

WORKERS GET HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt ordered today a half-holiday on Friday, Sept. 17 for federal employees. The date is the 150th anniversary of the signing of the federal constitution.

SACRAMENTO
SEEKS HOP
PICKERS HERE200 Jobs Open for Men From This County

Two hundred jobs in northern California — with transportation furnished — were available for Orange county men today, and National Reemployment service officials aren't sure whether they can find enough men to meet their quota.

Sacramento valley hop growers need men, and they have raised a $2000 fund to transport pickers from Southern California. Orange county was asked to furnish 200 of these men.

State relief administrators in San Francisco sanctioned a plan of hop growers to finance removal of relief clients in Southern California to the Sacramento valley. Most of the hop pickers will be taken from Los Angeles county.

"There is the possibility the men would become stranded after their work in the north," John Burn, assistant SRA administrator, pointed out. "However, if the farmers are anxious to have them and arrange for their transportation, I think it is a fine thing, and we will cooperate."

Because of the seasonal nature of the work, hop pickers have been at a premium for several years, according to Orange county employment officials.

SCORES STATE

JOB SERVICE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Criticism of the state employment service was voiced today by county Supervisor Herbert Legg in a letter to all boards of supervisors in California.

"Someone is to blame if 100,000 able-bodied men and women are maintained on the state relief rolls while there is a shortage of workers in many counties to harvest our crops," Legg wrote.

Telegrams from other portions of the state, asking the release of Los Angeles unemployed for harvest jobs, were referred to the state employment service, Legg said, and brought a reply that service "cannot conscript labor."

Veterans Protest
WPA, NRS Policies

Veterans of Foreign Wars, perturbed over what they claimed as "disregarding" of the veterans' preference in WPA and NRS work, appealed to the board of supervisors yesterday for a better break.

In a resolution from the county council, V. F. W. posts, the veterans asked that Veterans Welfare Officer Harry Edwards be requested to act as an employment officer for unemployed World war veterans.

Supervisors were reluctant to take action, however, remarking that such a function on Edwards' part would be a duplication of NRS and WPA employment work and that Edwards has a lot of work to do anyway.

Reduce Rate on Hand Phone Sets

A rate reduction from 15 to 10 cents a month for hand telephone sets, with the provision that the charge will be eliminated after a customer has had continuous service for 12 months, was announced today by N. R. Powley, president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, following conferences with the California railroad commission.

The new rate will take effect Oct. 1. Continuous service prior to that date will be credited. The 15-cent charge for customers who have had continuous service for more than 12 months prior to Oct. 1 will be eliminated.

'Magic Carpet'
Deaths Accident

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Death of two prop men when a "magic carpet" platform crashed at 20th Century-Fox studio was accidental, a coroner's jury decided.

Eddie Cantor, star of the picture, was absent when the accident occurred last Friday. Instead of giving his usual party for the company at the completion of production, he arranged to turn the money over to the two widows.

Coast Guard Gets
Two Patrol Boats

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Two Coast Guard patrol boats, built for duty at San Francisco and Seattle, were ready today.

The CG-443, a 65-foot 30-knot craft, will be taken to San Francisco next week with the AB-67, previously launched. Assigned to Seattle is the AB-68, a 66-foot harbor cruiser capable of 10 knots.

What To Do
If You Get Lost In A Forest

1. Send out an SOS—three signals in quick succession repeated at regular intervals. You can do this by . . .

A. Blowing a whistle. If you haven't one with you use your lips.
B. Sending up smoke signals, if there's no danger of a forest fire, regulated by a blanket or coat.
C. Using a mirror to flash sun signals.

D. Building three small fires in a row, if it's night, or . . .
E. Turning a light on and off three times in succession.

By The AP Feature Service

The National Forest Service approves all these methods but is trying to make whistling the standard call for help. It urges persons to carry a whistle when they go into the woods. The whistle is light to carry, far more penetrating and less exhausting than vocal calls.

The insistent regularity of the signals, no matter how given, will distinguish them from casual calls, says the Forest Service. But they must not be used except where help is absolutely required. For anyone hearing them is morally obligated to either go himself or send aid. The person lost is expected to stand the cost of rescue.

When a person hears the SOS

he should acknowledge it with the customary railroad "all clear" of two signals—if possible, by the same medium the sender is using. The rescue party should keep repeating the two signals and the person in trouble should answer with the three to facilitate discovery.

COL. FINLEY
TELLS OF
ROTARY MEETDelegate Reports On
Conclave in France

The Rotary Roster for Orange county Rotarians was distributed among members of the Santa Ana club at its regular meeting yesterday in the Masonic temple. The Roster was distributed and prepared by Ralph C. Smedley, secretary of the local club.

It contains the names, occupations, and addresses of all Orange county Rotarians.

Members of the local club heard an account of the European trip made recently by Col. S. H. Finley, their delegate to the Rotary International convention at Nice, France. He was accompanied by Mrs. Finley.

There were three outstanding events at the convention which Colonel Finley said were impressive. They were the appearance of Paul Harris, founder of Rotary International, the appearance of a blind American girl who was led by a dog and who made an appeal for aid of the physically handicapped, and the nomination of a Frenchman for president of the organization, by a German member.

Jack Morris, representative of the company which recently installed acoustical equipment in the Masonic temple, spoke briefly regarding the installation.

Visitors at the meeting from out-of-state clubs were E. R. Fortner, Sterling, Colo., and H. M. Clark, Phoenix, Ariz. President John H. McCoy presided at the meeting. Wendell Finley, son of Colonel Finley, introduced his father.

No Indorsement
For Signs

Santa Ana merchants today were warned against persons falsely claiming the indorsement of the state board of equalization for the sale of signs, cash registers and accounting systems.

The warning was issued by Ray Edgar, southern California board member, who said no such indorsements have been given. The board, he said, has been informed that agents have descended upon merchants, advising them they must have separate cash registers for sales tax collection.

"The sales tax act requires the merchant to keep accurate records so his accounts may be audited by the board, but it has not indorsed any system of accounting," Edgar said.

Lovely Party Fetes Miss Rairdon

Gifts of Crystal Are
Showered on Bride
Of Next Saturday

The attractive new Tustin home of Mrs. Robert Maypole (Wilma Silver) was setting last night for the first of several parties planned to honor Miss Eleanor Rairdon, who will become Mrs. Ralph White next Saturday. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Maypole were Mrs. Charles W. Hyde, Jr., and both were gardenias sent them by Miss Rairdon.

Colorful zinnias in pottery bowls decorated the rooms where friends of the popular bride-elect gathered to enjoy a dessert course and evening of contract. Fluffy white asters alone centered the refreshment tables, and later in the evening, when scores were added, a beautiful box topped with a bride-like shower bouquet and white ribbons was presented the guest of honor. In it were found to be individually wrapped gifts nearly completing the set of "Teardrop" crystal which Miss Rairdon has selected for her new home.

A further surprise came with the presentation of a handsome maple reflector lamp, a gift from Miss Rairdon's fellow employees at the Commercial National bank.

HERMOSA FOLK
ENJOY PARTY
AT WORKMANS'

Members of Hermosa chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were entertained at a potluck supper and steak bake Monday night in the playground-garden of Dr. James and Dr. Estelle Wilson of Valencia street. Approximately 80 people enjoyed the supper and watermelon served later by the chapter.

COUNTRY GAMES, a potato race, horseshoe pitching, and other contests were indulged in, while in the house were games of contract and auction bridge. At contract, Mrs. Edith Snow and Mrs. Anna Kester won high and low prizes, while Judge John Mitchell and Mrs. Jennie Peek won auction awards.

Mrs. Etta Sweet supervised arrangements for cards, Dr. Workman, Cy Lurker, and Harold Nelson were in charge of games, and the entire affair was planned by Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, worthy matron, Harold Nelson, worthy patron, and Helen Lurker, associate matron.

FAMILY PICNIC
REUNION
HONORS TEXANS

Many members of the L. A. Lindsey family gathered in Irvine park recently when he and his three daughters, Mrs. Lovie Southard, Mrs. Charles McDowell, and Mrs. Bud Mitchell, joined in entertaining relatives from Texas. The gathering took the form of a family picnic reunion. Honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Rennels and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rennels, all of Abilene, Texas. Other relatives at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. George Southard of Compton, William Blake-more and Mrs. Odessa Kizzlar of Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jones and daughter Mary of Highgrove, Mrs. Helen Early and small son Michael of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mitchell of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lovie Southard of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDowell and two daughters Betty Lee and Marjorie of Peters Canyon.

Mary Stoddard Standards for Womanhood Are Really Set By Women in Speech, Actions

Who sets the standards of womanhood? Getting right down to brass tacks, doesn't the woman herself set them, by her actions and her associations?

A widow of fine reputation and character has been going about with different men who have no respect for women and infer that there are no good women of today. She, in turn, has begun to wonder if there are no good men left. All this woman has to do to assure herself that there are good men left, men who respect and admire a good woman, is to change her associations and perhaps her tactics to attract this class of men. She pours out her heart in the following letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I've read your column for some time and enjoyed it, but it never entered my mind that I, one day, would be coming to you for advice. Here I am, though.

I have lived here for almost 30 years, raised and educated my children. Two graduated from a university, two from high school, I am now a widow, my husband having passed away three years ago.

This is my problem: In the last year I have gone out with different men and to my great surprise, they have no respect for women, and put every woman on the same standard and seem to think there are no good women of today.

I have begun to wonder if there are no good men left. I am in my forties, and do not wish to go out and face the business world again. I love my home and am considered by friends a good housewife, housekeeper and cook. Miss Stoddard, I hope you will not think I am too critical, but to have them tell me I don't know the score and am 30 years behind.

I wonder if there are any men left who would appreciate a good home? Simply not a stopping place. I hope I will get consideration from you as your advice has always been so good and I will appreciate any you may see fit to give on this. It might give me a new angle that I have not been able to see. Thanking you in advance I am sincerely, W. H.

Perhaps you will feel a bit more cheerful, W. H. when I tell you frankly that you are not the exception. Many other widows, and those older have faced this same problem when they sought the companionship of men. I do not believe you are too critical in the respect you demand and are entitled to, but how critical are you of your own attitude toward these men you seek as friends? Do you bear in mind that these men look upon you in a much different way than they would your hand in marriage as did your husband? In your loneliness, do you unconsciously talk and act toward them as you did toward your husband? Remember you were a wife for many years. Death has robbed you of your mate and protector.

You must be your own moral protector and set your own standards at all times and if a man is worthy to be your friend or later on, your second husband, he will respect those standards. I believe I can give you a new angle. Try this: First, take inventory of yourself — your age, your personality, your habits and character. Then sweep out all useless habits and mannerisms that 30 years of living with one man might have developed, and were developed to please one man. Don't try to act like a young girl, or expect men to treat you as one. Be yourself at all times and demand respect. Avoid pickup acquaintances. This is one of the major mistakes widows make and the main cause of heartaches and insults. Just generalizing, I think it

Orange Girl Honored At Shower

Another of the many charming pre-nuptial affairs which have complimented Miss Miriam Powell of Orange, bride-elect of Paul Wright of Santa Ana, was given last night by three hostesses in the Billingsley Ranch School for Girls at Villa Park.

Mrs. Helen Billingsley Flintham and her two daughters, Miss Eleanor Flintham and Miss Dorothy Flintham, as hostesses for the evening had decorated the three spacious living rooms of the ranch home with bouquets of summer flowers.

Of chief interest during the party was a mock wedding staged by the little girl residents of the school, Miss Loretta Morgan was awarded high prize for the games preceding the serving of refreshments. A yellow and white color scheme was followed in the dining room, where refreshments were served buffet style.

Taking part in the marriage ceremony were Miss Dorothy Flintham as minister, Catherine Hunk as bride and Lucille Conner as groom. Others participating were Roberta Conner and Elizabeth Dunbar as the bride's parents, Joan Wright and Margaret Conner as the groom's parents, Arlene Smith as best man, Kiki Dunbar as matron of honor, Melba Eaton as bridesmaid and Evangeline Dunbar as flower girl.

Miss Elizabeth Lowry sang two vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Eleanor Buckles. At the request of the guests, Miss Dorothy Flintham, who will be a soloist at the wedding ceremony, sang a number, accompanied by the guest of honor, Miss Powell.

Guests present for the affair were the Mesdames Floyd Watson, Kellar Watson, Jr., George Franson, Roy Buckles, Henry C. Bosch, H. C. Neuham, James Bryant, Jr., J. W. Powell, and the Misses Barbara Hallman, Agnes Adams, Margaret Bayley, Suzanne Clark, Maxine Huber, Myrtle Livernash, Norma Erbentraut, Eleanor Buckles, Luberta Morgan, Mary Lee Walker, Elizabeth Lowry, Eldene Watson, and Phyllis Lucy Keyes of Orange.

Mrs. Otto Ulrich, Mrs. Mary Dunbar and Miss Barbara Sutherland of Villa Park; Mrs. R. W. Jones, Miss Rosemary Flippen, Miss Hattie Arends and Miss Alice Stoner of El Modena; Mrs. I. A. Wright, Mrs. B. Wayne Wright, Mrs. Carl Fisher, Mrs. Faye Townsend and Mrs. Marvin Hulsey of Santa Ana; Mrs. Hugh Rawlings and Miss Marjane Rawlings of Riverside; Miss Thelma Clemmons of Monrovia; Mrs. Oswald, C. Urbick and Mrs. Ray Busch.

LOCAL COUPLE
ENTERTAIN
BRIDAL PARTY

Following a quiet ceremony road in the First Christian church here Monday by the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie A. Buzzini of San Pedro with members of their bridal party were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Carrington at a luncheon reception.

The Carrington home, 1201 North Sycamore street, was the scene of the informal luncheon party, after which the young couple left for a week's honeymoon trip in the North.

The bride, formerly Miss Julie Rodman of San Pedro, was gownned in a tangerine shade ensemble with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pudephatt of San Pedro attended the bridal couple.

SYCAMORES FETE
OFFICERS OF DISTRICT

Sycamore Rebekahs' regular meeting this week was attended by many district officers, who were particularly honored by the local lodge. In the group of nearly 30 officials were representatives from Torosa, Orange, Anaheim, and Fullerton Rebekahs.

The Sycamores were invited to a card party Sept. 1 at Fullerton, and to Torosa Rebekah initiation on Sept. 8.

On the evening's musical program appeared Lella Slaback, pianist, Winifred Percy, vocalist, Jean McCormac, pianist, and Maurine Waters, tap-dancer, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Gross.

Valeria Crawford was in charge of a dessert course served in the banquet room which was decorated with multi-colored asters.

ENTERTAIN AT MOUNTAIN CABIN

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson of Orange, who have been spending the past 10 days at their cabin in Baker's canyon beyond Silverado, gave a house party over the weekend for their Saturday Night club. Guests enjoyed swimming in the nearby pool, badminton, horse-shoes, and picnic suppers. Present were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hockaday, and the Petersons. Absent members of the club were Judge and Mrs. Kenneth Morrison.

much better for widows to have widowers for friends, especially if they have matrimony in mind, just as I think it is much better for a divorced person to marry one who has been divorced, for the reason that it is easier to adjust themselves to one another because they have gone through the same experiences and have that, at least, in common.

Try to find someone near your own age, a little your senior, if possible. That eliminates the smart irresponsible young blades, and the childish old boys.

Yes, indeed, there are lots of good men left, but you'll not find them using such expressions as "You're 30 years behind the times" or "You don't know what the score is."

Two Matrons Compliment Visitors

A delightful gathering of matrons prominent in social affairs of the county occurred yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Hazel Maag of Anaheim and Mrs. Nick Brock of Orange entertained at a tea and cocktail party complimenting the former's house guests, Miss Hazel and Miss Mae Beck of St. Louis. The two sisters and the hostesses became acquainted several years ago in Paris, where all four were visiting, and have since kept in close touch with one another.

Several pleasant informal affairs are planned in honor of the visitors this week, among them a barbecue supper at the Placentia home of the Howard Budlongs this evening, and a luncheon today at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

Guests dropped in from 3 to 5 o'clock, and were greeted by Mrs. Maag in a white flowered afternoon dress, Mrs. Brock in vivid red crepe, and the Misses Beck in smart black ankle-length frocks, accented by the gardenias that were sent them by their hostesses.

Assisting in serving was Mrs. G. D. MacMullan of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Jerry Miller had sent lovely flowers from her Santa Ana garden to add to the beautiful blossoms that decorated the living room.

Among those calling during the afternoon hours were Mrs. S. B. Kaufman, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Mrs. Lawrence Ford, Mrs. Charles Doty, Mrs. Earl Miller, Mrs. Roy Langley, Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. Jerry Miller, Mrs. Howard Budlong of Placentia, Mrs. David Betten, Mrs. Gertrude Mulligan, Mrs. L. S. Sawyer, Mrs. Sara J. Haddon, Mrs. Ben Baker, Mrs. Sean Kraemer, Mrs. Lawrence Cameron, Mrs. Charles Hyde, Jr., Mrs. Ray Crenshaw, Mrs. Charles Givens, Mrs. E. R. Meriwether of Orange, and Mrs. G. D. MacMullan.

TRAVELS BEGIN AND END

Travel notes of the week reveal that Mrs. Harold King and Helen-ruth Travers of 4014 E. Central street will sail for Honolulu this Saturday aboard the S. S. Lurline, and will enjoy a month's vacation there.

Also booked by the Julia Ann Hyde Travel Bureau is passage on the S. S. California for Miss Sally Newkirk of Anaheim, who leaves Sept. 12 for Acapulco, Mexico. At the end of her vacation there she will return via Pan-American Airways.

Friends of Miss Effie Douglas who has been in Europe since June, are pleased to learn that she will return to Santa Ana around Oct. 1. She has toured England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, and will sail from Belfast on the S. S. Duchess of Athol Sept. 10, landing in Montreal. From there she will travel home by way of the Canadian-Pacific railway.

SERVED IN
RHOADES' HOME

For a colorful Spanish luncheon served in the outdoor patio of the Harold E. Rhoades' home, 221 East Fifteenth street, 13 young local matrons gathered at noon yesterday.

Mrs. Rhoades was joined by Mrs. Homer Medlock and Mrs. Howard Youel in the hostessing duties. The summer vacation trip of Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades through Mexico recently furnished material for the decorations as the hostesses used gay-colored zinnias, bright Mexican pottery and a Spanish menu.

Guests who spent the afternoon in knitting and sewing and chatting were Mrs. Robert Hafer, Mrs. Lynn Hafer, Mrs. Harvey Bear, Mrs. Ralph Watson, Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, Mrs. John McCoy, Mrs. Carl Warner, Mrs. Carroll Ault, Mrs. Alvin Rohrs, and Miss Marian Graaf of Anaheim, and the three hostesses.

PHILANTHROPY
SECTION MEETS

Mrs. G. V. Linsenbard was hostess to members of the Philanthropy section of the Santa Ana Women's club in her home, 415 West First street, Monday for a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Decorations throughout the home consisted of baskets of summer flowers, and entertainment was provided by Miss Jean Linsenbard, daughter of the home, who sang several selections. Later in the afternoon, three tables of auction bridge were in play.

HEFFNERS HOSTS
AT ALHAMBRA

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heffner, formerly of Santa Ana, entertained a group of their local friends at a buffet dinner in their Alhambra home over the week-end. At contract later, Mrs. Clarence Sackerson scored high.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Perry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sackerson, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Harmon, and Miss Lucy Kraemer of Placentia.

HOLMESES HAVE FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holmes, 2329 Riverside drive, entertained an intimate family group at an informal dinner party in their home recently.

Guests at the party were Mrs. Minnie Holmes and daughter Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Holmes and daughter Kathleen and son Robert of Tustin.

FLOWERS FOR EVENING

Myrna Loy, screen actress, is among smart women who are wearing flowers in their hair in the evenings. She tucks a cluster of multicolored blooms at the top of her high evening coiffure, in tiara fashion, and is careful to make them as secure as possible.

WAGNERS HOME
FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Wagner and son Bill of 2130 Greenleaf street have just returned from a leisurely trip into the northwest. They took their trailer and went up the coast through the Redwoods to Portland where they visited friends.

They returned in time to entertain their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Grant and Mrs. Mary Pritchett who have been summering at Babco from their home in St. Louis, for several days before their return east.

W. B. MARTINS
HAVE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Martin entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mason of Huntington Park in their home here, 125 Sacham drive, all day Sunday with an informal dinner at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin will accompany their daughter Betty to Westwood on Sunday when she moves there to spend her senior year at U. C. L. A. Betty is going up a week early to take part in rushing activities of her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta. She will live in the sorority house during the term.

Elks' Wives Are Dinner Guests

A happy group of Santa Ana Elks' wives enjoyed a delightful dinner party given in their honor last evening by Mrs. Clifford Winchell of Pasadena, wife of the exalted ruler of the Elks of that city. The affair was held at the Elks' clubhouse there, and guests were seated formally at tables beautifully decorated in white and purple asters, carrying out the B. P. O. E. colors.

At bridge games later, Mrs. Gilbert Campbell won first prize, and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, second.

Attending the party from Santa Ana were Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Gilbert Campbell, Mrs. Don Jerome, Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. L. Miller, Mrs. V. C. Motry, Mrs. Charles Doty, Mrs. Emil Majors, Mrs. William Garvin, Mrs. Ben Osterman, Mrs. Clare Johnson, Mrs. J. Nieman, Mrs. George Bradley, Mrs. Ridley Smith and Miss Ruth Armstrong.

A pleasant feature of the evening was a pre-dinner concert presented by the ladies of the Santa Ana prize-winning male quartet, members of which were guest artists at the Pasadena lodge meeting later in the evening. They were accompanied by their director Miss Armstrong.

MRS. LEWIS
ENDS EASTERN
TRIP SUDDENLY

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, worthy matron of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., has returned to her home, 1916 North Flower street, this week after interrupting her trip East to return home because of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Margaret M. Hill, 116 West Twentieth street.

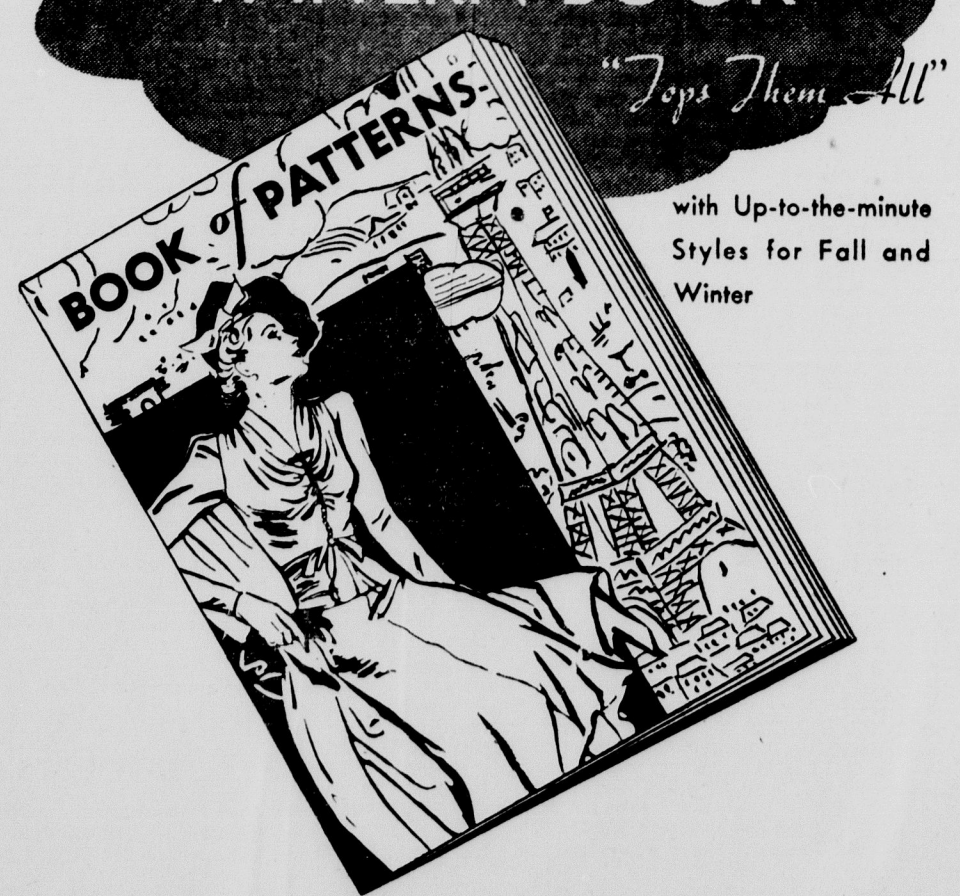

Mrs. Lewis went East three weeks ago by motor with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leadley and son, Billy, and Mrs. A. B. Clayton of Fullerton. They were in Ohio when news reached them that Mrs. Hill had broken her hip.

The rest of the party continued on the trip, while Mrs. Lewis returned to Santa Ana by train. Mrs. Hill is still confined at St. Joseph hospital, and although improving rapidly, cannot be moved for some time.

TROOP TO MEET

Girl Scout Troop No. 1 will meet Friday afternoon in the Little House on South Parton street. The session is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m.

Nuptials Told At Lovely Shower

The marriage Aug. 24 at Phoenix of Miss Dorothy Davidson and Richard Paxton was announced yesterday at a pretty party given in honor of the bride by her aunt, Mrs. Biney Mustard, 1419 Cypress street.

Guests had brought miscellaneous gifts for a surprise shower, but were themselves surprised to learn of the nuptials. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton were accompanied to the Arizona city by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Davidson, with whom they are temporarily making their home.

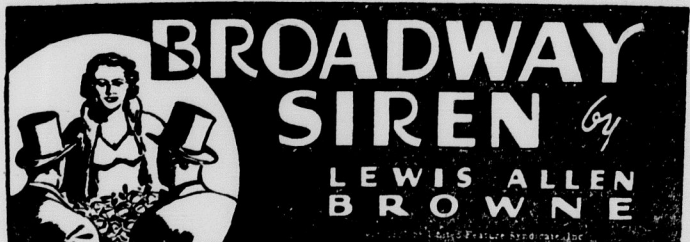

A pink and green color scheme was carried out yesterday by Mrs. Mustard who was assisted by Miss Irene Mustard. Amusing games resulted in prizes going to Mrs. Don Wolkoff and to the bride and a dainty dessert course was served.

Gifts were brought in to the honor guest in a pink and green covered wagon, drawn by her little cousin, Laura Lee Mustard. Guests at the affair were Mrs. Don Wolkoff, Mrs. P. M. Mustard, Mrs. O. R. Mustard, Mrs. E. R. Davidson, Miss Anna Mustard, Miss Doris Mustard, Miss Laura Lee Mustard, Miss Annie Tucker, Miss Irma Waters and Mrs. J. W. Stansbury of Pomona.

LUNCHEON COMPLIMENTS LOCAL VISITOR

Bon voyage was wished to a departing guest Monday afternoon when Miss Minnie Besser entertained with a charming little luncheon at Daniger's Tea room for Miss Minnie Daniels who left the same afternoon for her home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Guests at the luncheon party were Miss Daniels who has been visiting with Miss Susan Cloyes here, Miss Cloyes, Mrs. Preston Turner, Miss Besser, and Mrs. William Flemming, also of Phoenix, who is visiting with her father, William Besser, and her sister, Miss Minnie Besser, in their North Ross street home.

BROADWAY SIREN by LEWIS ALLEN BROWNE

CHAPTER XXXIII
"DARLING!" Winfield exclaimed, when Lola said that they could still go to Bob Emerson's island together, despite their hostess' absence. "We will start at once!"

"At once? Win!"
"Well, as soon as we can arrange to have some friends go along with us. We can get busy right away and up to a party as quick as anything."

Lola thought of Norman Standish then. She had sent him word of her return and wondered why she had had no reply.

"Oh," she said carelessly, "don't rush me, Win. I have a lot to do first—summer sport clothes to get and everything."

Meanwhile, Martha moved back to her office and tried to figure it out. She could not imagine why both Lola and Winfield should go down to the Municipal Building to see a mutual friend, as they said, who was a clerk there. But they seemed to have told the truth, for she had investigated and learned that no marriage license had been issued to them.

She got in touch with Senator Balcorn and told him what had happened.

"Look here, Miss Carter," the senator demanded, "did Win say his friend was a chap named Emerson?"

"He didn't say."

"He has a friend at the license bureau by that name—a college mate whose people were caught in the crash. By Jove, Miss Carter, I believe I have the solution! Your detectives reported their plans to spend the summer together on some Maine coast island. This Bob Emerson owns a little island. It all fits together."

"So that was it, senator! I believe you are right. They are going to this island and went down to see their friend to make arrangements. Well, what do you advise?"

"Nothing—as long as Winfield and this Larkin girl show no indication of getting married. But keep working on the case. You must get the recent facts about the girl to convince my son she is not worthy of our name."

PATTERN 9462

Bring all the gay color you possibly can into your kitchen with plenty of bright-hued, jiffy-don aprons. The two in Pattern 9462 will make an ideal pair! Apron "A" is perfect in dainty dotted swiss, with an organdy ruffle, bright buttons, and bib-like yoke. Wear this bit of charm when you serve tea or preside at the dinner table. For peeling the potatoes and stringing the beans, apron "B" will be appropriate in a sturdy cotton. There's no fuss or frill to hinder you when you must get dinner together in a hurry! Just a bit of ric-rac trim, while the button-back prevents slipping-strap annoyances. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9462 may be ordered only in sizes small, medium and large. Small size Apron A requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric and 2 1/2 yards ruffling; Apron B, 2 yards and 3/4 yards ric-rac.

SONJA HEINE IN MUSICAL TODAY

"Thin Ice" is a picture as thrilling to listen to as to look at, according to advance notices. It is a gay and magnificent musical, with the most spectacular and dazzling sets ever used in a similar production, it was announced.

The supporting cast includes Arthur Treacher, Raymond Walburn, Joan Davis, Sig Ruman, Alan Hale, Leah Ray, Melville Cooper, Maurice Cass and George Givens.

Flaming action, breath-takingly beautiful scenic shots and a tender romance combine to make "Hopalong Rides Again" the finest of the popular series. The picture has William Boyd playing his familiar part of Hopalong Cassidy, and George Hives and Russell Hayden again cast as "Winny" and "Lucky" respectively.

Selected short subjects on the program include "Dog Days," a Merrie Melodie cartoon, and "Have Courage," a Benchley specialty, as well as World News events.

ACTRESS GETS THREAT NOTES

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A new burglar alarm was installed today at the home of Jane Withers, young movie star.

And, Jane's mother, Mrs. Walter Withers, said that Jack Trent, the actress' bodyguard, is now on 24-hour duty.

The threats that came through the mail, threatening harm to Carol Ann, Wallace Beery's adopted daughter, prompted the Withers family to take the added precautions.

"We don't have any particular fear of kidnappers," said Mrs. Withers, "but we are afraid of deranged persons who might try to harm Jane."

The Withers home, on a hill overlooking the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, is surrounded by a high fence. When Jane is home, Bodyguard Trent, a former Texas ranger, is on constant patrol.

Tap Dances Win Party Cheers

Give quiet little Kate a hand! She's stealing the show with her tricky tap dancing.

It looks complicated, but it's really easy. Kate used diagrams and directions to teach herself basic steps at home.

Tonight her full-length waltz routine, to the tune of "School Days," is right in the spirit of the party. The crowd gathers round to join in the chorus.

Earn dance, football jamboree or formal dance—it's loads of fun to work out your own routines for special occasions.

Our sketch shows the Toe Tap. Extend leg backward with relaxed knee; make distinct tap sound with tip of shoe. The other basic steps are as simple as that!

See that you can do to the tune of catchy oldtimers like "Turkey in the Straw" or the strains of the latest popular hit.

Basic steps are diagrammed in our 32-page booklet. Practise routines for beginners. Full-length routines—waltz, military, buck.

Send 10c for your copy of Tap Dancing Simplified to The Journal, Home Service, 117 E. Fifth street. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

— By —
ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD. — Unreel parade:

Virginia Grey has Wallace Beery's old dressing room at Metro... As a child Virginia was given candy by Wally, but Wally didn't remember it...

She was the daughter of Ray Grey, late comedy director and next-door-neighbor to Wally when Gloria Swanson was Missus Beery...

She knew all the movie people then... but when Virginia got a bit in "Old Hutch" with Beery she didn't remind him of their acquaintance...

Thought it would be coasting on dad's fame. When Grey died, Virginia's mother went to work as a cutter...

The daughter got parts in pictures occasionally, but had given it up when Billy Grady, the caster, saw her... She danced in "The Great Ziegfeld," later stood in for Madge Evans and Florence Rice, but the lead opposite George Murphy in a musical miniature stepped up her career...

Now she has her first featured lead, in "Bad Guy."

PERSONAL SERVICE

The clamp-down on visitors at the studios has boomed the movie home guide business...

The other day you could count nine guide cars in a two-and-a-half mile stretch along Sunset boulevard.

The boys in an office at Paramount were startled by the reverberations of pistol fire outside their windows...

"DeMille's casting his guns personally," cracked one... But funnier than that, DeMille was casting his guns personally...

He insisted that each weapon be fired—tested for sound—before it won a part in "The Buccaneer."

Personal impression: Adolph Zukor is best liked by the rank and file of his employees, among all the studio big-wigs...

Probably because he is as unassuming as the least of them.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

Belated publicity item arrives heralding June Lang's intention to learn cooking (for husband Victor Orsatti) as soon as she finishes her current picture...

Item is dated a week or two before the Orsattis took it to court...

But maybe that's one trouble with Hollywood marriages: they don't last long enough for the bride to try her first biscuits.

It can't be money that's keeping Katharine Cornell out of pictures... One of the offers she's had and turned down was for a million dollars (for two pictures) and the right to put both of them on the shelf if she didn't like the finished product...

The producer who made this unparalleled bid was the late Thalberg.

"Easy Living," a Paramount picture, Jean Arthur has the faded-out line: "This is where we came in..." In Artists and Models, a Paramount picture, Jack Benny has the last line: "This is where we came in..."

It was funny the first time... and the second, too, if you hadn't seen "Easy Living" already...

The strange thing is that the "Artists and Models" staff knew the other picture had used it already...

But maybe that's going to be the new Paramount slogan.

'SOULS AT SEA' ENDS RUN HERE

Theatergoers of Santa Ana and vicinity will have the last opportunity tonight to see the double feature program at the Broadway theater with "Souls at Sea" and "Talent Scout."

Filmdom's most famous soldier-of-fortune, Gary Cooper, comes to the screen again in the most powerful role of his career in "Souls at Sea." He plays the hero of a true story, the role of "Nuggin" Taylor, a sea captain of the '40's whose famous trial for manslaughter on the high seas is one of the ocean's most amazing and thrilling stories. He is supported by George Raft, Frances Dee, Henry Wilcoxon, Harry Carey and others. A dramatic romance adds to the power of the story.

Tribulations of an unusual profession form the basis of "Talent Scout," in which Donald Woods plays the title role. His job is to dig up talent for the movies. He finds a marvelous singer in the person of Jeanne Madden, in a small town theater amateur night. He takes her to Hollywood and by trickery launches her upon a successful movie career.

Tomorrow the Broadway will present a new show, with "Wine Women and Horses," a human interest comedy drama with a race track locale featuring Barton MacLane and Ann Sheridan, and "Hot Water," another popular Jones Family comedy-drama with Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Russell Gleason and Spring Byington. Special short subjects will include "Sound Effects" with Rufe Davis, made famous in "Mountain Music," Ramac's orchestra, a cartoon and World News events.

MASSACHUSETTS WITCH TRIALS

"Confess or else..." That was the keynote of the trials for witchcraft as conducted in Massachusetts during the witch scare of 1692. Courts granted immediate freedom to any person who admitted being a witch, but hanged everyone who was accused of being a witch but refused to admit it. Breaking out in the town of Salem, the witch frenzy started when a group of young girls began acting in a weird manner, barking like dogs and screaming at unseen things. Whether it was a case of mass hysteria similar to that which recently caused a number of girls employed in a French factory to periodically faint by the scores, or whether it was simply a desire for publicity that brought on their strange demonstrations seems to be undetermined. The diagnosis of the town's leaders, at any rate, was that the girls were bewitched. A witchcraft court was hastily formed, an aged Indian servant was brought to trial. In the following months, person after person was hauled into the court, accused by some fellow townsman of being a witch. Fifty-five were subjected to torture in attempts to bring from them the confession that they were witches. Anyone who spoke in their behalf immediately fell under suspicion of being a witch. The accusations knew no rank nor any other discrimination. Some of the most respectable people in the community were hauled to court, tried, and sentenced to death if they failed to confess. Twenty persons were executed and 150 awaited trial when the ghastly proceedings came to an end—brought to a stop when the governor of the colony, Sir William Phips, found his own wife accused of being a witch.

Make Rich Linens at Little Cost

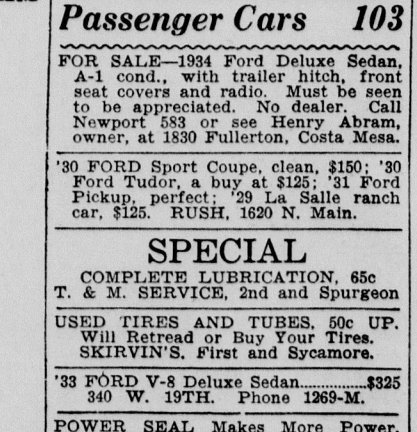

PATTERN 5925

Be penny-wise! Here is a real needlework bargain—a combination of filet crochet and cross-stitch. Trim your linens with the two together or use each alone. You could put a monogram in the space for the cross stitch when using the crochet alone. Make scarfs, cloths, towels and pillow cases. In pattern 5925 you will find a transfer pattern of two motifs 5½x7½ inches; a chart and directions for a crocheted edging 3¼x15 inches; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches used; color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth Street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

Vol. 3, No. 106

EDITORIAL PAGE

Sept. 1, 1937

This newspaper stands for a reunited people, for independence in all things political, and for honest journalism in its news and editorial columns.

Santa Ana Journal

Published daily except Sunday by John P. Scripps Newspapers at 117 E. Fifth Street, Santa Ana, Calif. Braden Finch, editor; E. P. Sifstrom, business manager.

"The People We Serve"

Having been accustomed to reporting all possible sessions of public bodies, The Journal's editors were a bit puzzled some months ago when reporters suddenly were barred from afternoon sessions of the Santa Ana city council. The ouster order, as we remember, came after The Journal had printed news of the city's purchase of a new fire truck. We considered that news which the taxpayers—who pay the bill for fire trucks—should know.

We were puzzled as to the exact position of the city council. Today that point has been cleared up. Answering a letter from a Journal reader (whose name we keep confidential as we are pledged to do with all readers who write us but desire their names withheld), Councilman Ernest H. Layton has put himself on record.

In answering a charge that officials have attempted to precensor news, Mr. Layton says: ".... no citizen is barred from the informal meetings of the Santa Ana city council who will not.... use the information gained there in a way that will be adverse to the interests of the people we serve."

No clearer statement of position is on any record. But who are these people whom Mr. Layton serves? Curiously enough, they are the same people The Journal serves. The Journal, however, serves many people outside this city with whom Mr. Layton has no direct connection. Yet the doings of the Santa Ana city council are of importance and of interest to them. They subscribe to this newspaper because they want to know what is going on.

A newspaper, then, is hired by its readers to tell them what people are doing. A newspaper reporter is not inquisitive primarily for his own information; each reporter is inquisitive on behalf of several thousand persons whom he will inform—reporting back to his employer, the reader.

Buying a fire truck—yes, buying a manhole cover or a can of flagpole polish—is the public's business. The public pays the bill.

Mr. Layton's statement brings up the old, old question that always arises when a policy of restricting news is laid down: who is to be the judge of what is "adverse to the interests of the people?" And what will be the standards by which this judgment is arrived at? Would the judge or censor ever be tempted to quash news, the publication of which might be embarrassing to any influential body of men?

These are questions to which the people are entitled to demand answers.

It is significant that the public never has suggested that The Journal's news articles about the city council's actions were adverse to public interest. But complaints have come from "the high places."

We rest the case of censorship with those who employ us, and who employ Mr. Layton and his fellow councilmen—the public.

What ever happened to the parking meter craze?

The "Logic" of War

If you're trying to figure out the why of things in the war over at Shanghai, you'd better give up.

Everybody has assumed that it's China and Japan which are at each other's throats.

But how about this one? An American airplane bombed an American ship off Shanghai on Monday.

And then the Japanese shot the American plane out of the air.

To top the story, no protests will be filed by this nation for the Japanese attack on an American plane.

Instead of a protest to Japan, our state department sends a blast at China. And China apologizes!

The whole thing sounds ridiculous, doesn't it?

But it's just part of the supreme absurdity of war. Of course, there's an explanation. You probably know that the American-made plane was owned by the Chinese government and manned by Chinese soldiers.

When the Japanese shot it down, they were shooting down an enemy plane in the undeclared war.

But the Japanese reported it was an American plane just the same; made in America and sold to China to be used in a war against Japan.

This country has no quarrel with Japan. Yet it apparently is making planes which are being used in the war against Japan. The folly and irony of the whole affair slaps us in the face when the war plane we made drops a bomb on one of our own ships.

The matter ceases to be a conundrum and becomes a mighty serious affair, Americans on the President Hoover were wounded. One of them died.

And who's to blame?

What right has this country to sell engines of war either to Japan or China?

What would we think of a merchant who sold a gun to a customer if he knew that man was going to use it to kill another customer?

And what will we say, if this nation ever goes to war again, when we read that American soldiers are killed by American guns and bullets in the hands of our enemies?

If you're trying to figure out the logic of war, you'd better give it up. There isn't any.

Some Men Come High

How would you like to have a salary of $833 per month?

That is the stipend offered George Stout, liquor administrator for the state, in a revision of board of equalization salaries yesterday.

Before that time, George received only $416 per month.

Either salary sounds like something rather large for a state official to receive. The liquor business is a vast business, though, and it takes a big man to regulate it. Big men come high.

Being chief executive officer of the state is a pretty big job, too. It's a little wider in scope. And so they pay Governor Merriam a larger salary than they're going to pay George Stout.

The governor's salary is four dollars a year more than Stout's.

Gov. Hears
Of Gambling
At Saratoga

By
Westbrook
Pegler

New York, Aug. 31
Hon. H. H. Lehman,
Governor of New York,
Albany, N. Y.

Dear Sir: From your recent statement regarding the federal injunction which has permitted a dog track to operate wide open, illegal gambling at Mineola, L. I., I take it that you are opposed to illegal gambling, not only on the dogs but on the dice, the wheel, the box or whatever.

Well, sir, I am going to give you the surprise of your life.

Saratoga, N. Y., a few miles from where you live in Albany, during the horse meeting which closed last Saturday, was one of the greatest gambling centers that this country has ever known. I wish I could see your expression as you read this, because you probably are saying, "You wouldn't kid me, would you?"

But I am not kidding, Mr. Lehman. Not only in the horse papers, but in the general circulation papers, there were many references to the great gambling season at Saratoga in August. It was a season reminiscent of the era of wonderful nonsense, and things were open this year that they even mentioned the names and locations of the playgrounds in cold print and the names of the high rollers. The fix was in, everything was right, the play was so big that the operators could afford to hire big names to go up to Saratoga and blow the town. They had brass horns or squawk sad songs about love to lure the customers into the stores.

BEAT THAT

Maybe you don't know that the illegal gambling industry thrives by the bribery and corruption of certain local politicians. Fact, though. Often when you see a big name billed at some roadhouse called a club you are safe in assuming that there is an illegal gambling house on the premises operating by the consent of local officials and the dominant local political organization, and that a flat price or a percentage of the profit goes for bribery.

Some of the newspapers also are stooges for the gambling houses in that they print pieces which are sheer ballyhoo for these performers and the joints in which they work, knowing that the premises are illegal gambling houses conducted by underworld characters. Some newspapers don't refer to the gambling, though. It is considered unethical to mention it, because it is generally understood to be off the records. Beat that if you can, governor.

By the same reasoning it would be unethical to mention a stickup or a murder for fear of embarrassing some racketeer who had invited you to witness the stickup or murder.

Don't take my word for this illegal gambling at Saratoga, Governor Lehman. You have cops at your command and friends who know their way around. You ask them and they will confirm what I have said. Or may be you would be ashamed to admit that so much lawlessness goes on so close to your official residence and the seat of the state government and the law itself without your knowing it.

DON'T BLUSH

But you needn't be ashamed, governor, because plenty of other governors before you didn't have the slightest inkling that there were gambling houses in Saratoga, just a pleasant hour's drive of a summer evening from the governor's mansion in Albany. Al Smith and Frank Roosevelt were accounted pretty smart men when they were governors, and this gambling was conducted in secrecy as far as they were concerned.

On the other hand, governor, maybe you should have known that this summer and during every summer that you have been in Albany, Saratoga was a great center of illegal crap games, horse races, roulette, faro, bird cage and other games of little or no chance. No further thought, governor, in view of the notorious size and boldness of the illegal gambling operations in Saratoga, you make me uneasy by your statement that you are advised that thousands of dollars are wagered nightly in defiance of the state penal laws at the Mineola dog track under protection of a federal injunction restraining the local officials from doing their duty.

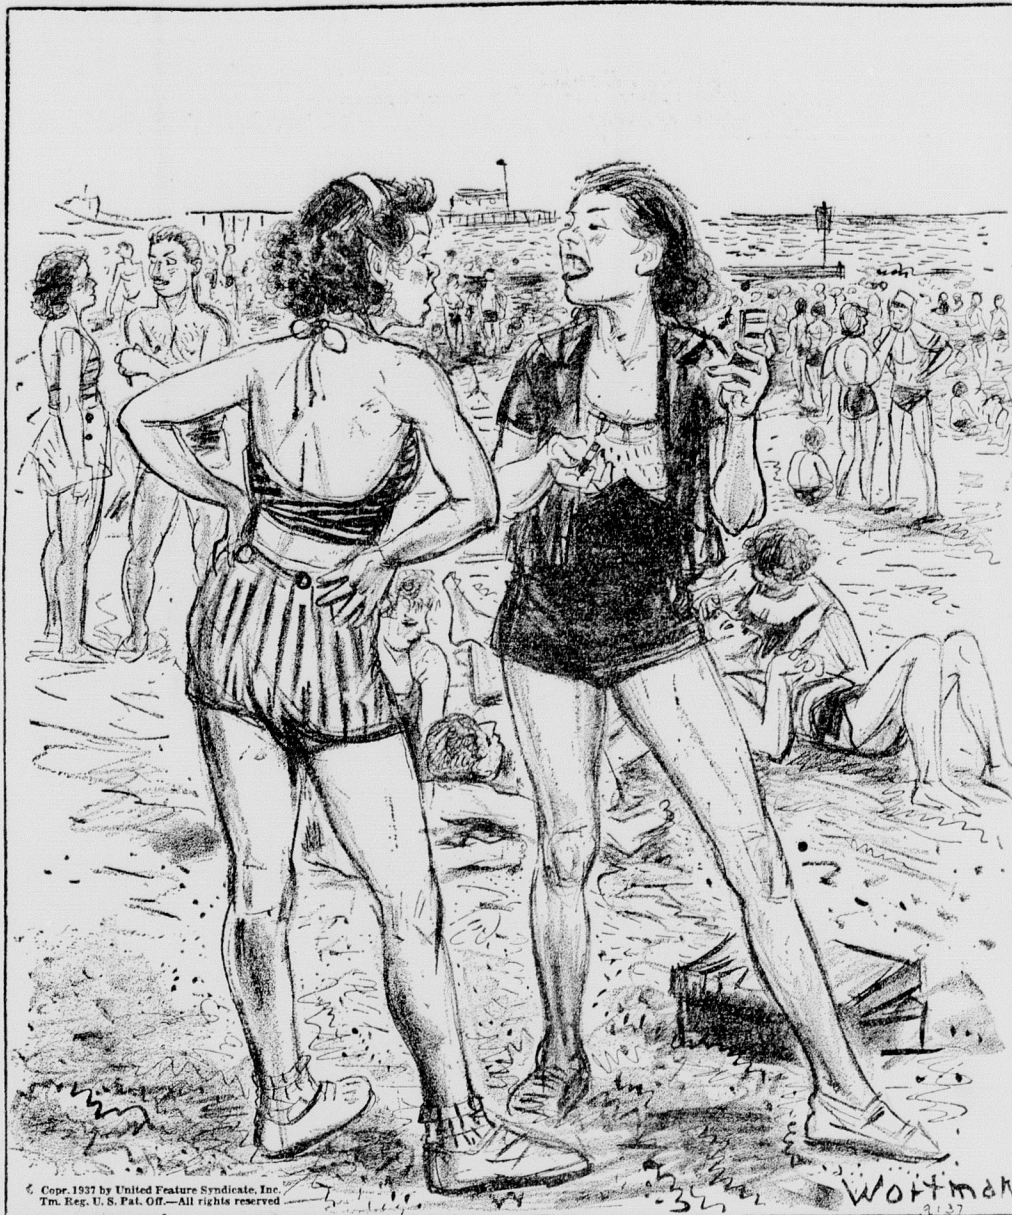

There wasn't any injunction to restrain the local officials from doing their duty in Saratoga right in your own neighborhood, was there? Yours very truly,
GEORGE SPELVIN,
The average American.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

PITTSBURG.—Fatalities arising from floods in Western Pennsylvania, and Northern West Virginia, were increased to forty today when four more deaths were reported from Canonsburg, Pa. The floods cut off many railroad lines and communication is impossible.

BOSTON.—William Wood, president of the American Woolen company, was arraigned today and pleaded not guilty to distributing dynamite at the textile mills during the Lawrence strike.

WASHINGTON.—California suffragists are playing an important part in the politics of the state and are taking an active part in the campaign, according to Clifford Howard of Los Angeles, editor of the Woman's Bulletin who is visiting in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Chantry left this morning for a four months' visit in the northern part of the state. They first got to Crow's Landing, where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. William Isom, then to San Francisco for a stay with their daughter, Mrs. Murphy. At Newcastle they will be guests of their son, John, who is a banker at that place.

THE UNITED STATES code provides heavy penalties for representing a foreign government in this country without the authorization of the state department. Title 22 of the code states, "... anyone who represents himself as an agent of a foreign government without prior notification of the secretary of state shall be fined not more than $5000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both."

FRANCO AMBASSADOR

What makes the inquiry serious is the fact that the state department is in possession of evidence that might be grounds for action against Cardenas on the charge of violating this law.

The evidence consists of a letter from a Spaniard named Dionisio Trigo describing his activities in Puerto Rico in behalf of Franco. Although not accredited by the state department, Trigo calls himself consul of the Franco regime in Puerto Rico. The portion of Trigo's letter that made the state department sit up and take notice reads as follows:

"I am receiving every day registrations and lists of hundreds of Spaniards who wish the establishment of a registry book. To that effect I am waiting for news from our ambassador extraordinary in New York, Mr. Cardenas. From this item alone I expect to collect in one or two months from twenty to thirty thousand dollars, which amount I shall send to our government."

The state department recognizes only one Spanish ambassador extraordinary, Senor de los Rios. If Cardenas is making such pretensions it wants to know how come and why.

"THANK HEAVEN"

Friends of able young Chairman Arthur Altmeyer of the Social Security board are telling this story on him:

Recently he made a speech on the work of his agency. Mrs. Altmeyer was in the audience, and afterwards he asked her how his talk went over.

"Well," she replied, "I'm afraid the reaction was rather mixed. I thought you did very well, but a portly man who sat next to me kept remarking, 'Gosh, what a bore this fellow is.'"

"Finally I couldn't contain myself any longer. I turned to him and said: 'If you don't like it why don't you leave and allow others who are enjoying the speech to do so.' He replied, 'You must be one of his friends.'"

"I'm his wife," I said, whereupon he asked me if I knew who he was. I told him I did not.

"Thank heaven," he explained, and reached for his hat and fled."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

During the storm that broke about his head in the Federal Communications commission, implicit Commissioner to George Henry Payne kept on his desk a little black volume by Thomas A. Kempis, entitled, "For Guidance, Consolation, and Mental and Moral Inspiration." New Jersey's Senator Harry Moore is being opposed for the governorship by his own brother-in-law, Lester Cleve, Republican. Moore says, "If you heard the way Cleve rails against me, you would know this election is no family affair." ... Nicaragua has sent her noted Dr. Luis M. DeBazyle to Washington to persuade U. S. to advance $3,000,000 to start construction of the long talked about inter-oceanic canal. Dr. DeBazyle is persuasive, but there is little chance he will succeed.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

$25 EVERY MONDAY MORNING

To the Editor: Sunday, Aug. 29, the supporters of Robert Noble's new California pension plan, $25 every Monday morning, formed a motorcade in Los Angeles, and proceeded to Anaheim city park, where they held an all day meeting and picnic, arranged by Wm. J. Wickersheim and others.

According to Noble the plan is very simple in structure and operation. He said:

"The idea of this $25 every Monday morning plan is to furnish material security to the senior citizens of California after they have reached the age of 50 years. And in so doing those under 50 will have an opportunity to secure the jobs left open by those who receive the pension."

"The thought is to retire men and women over 50 years of age and give them more time for pleasure relaxation and leisure time to enjoy the beautiful things that are our wonderful state of California."

"And mind you—there are shut-ins, widows with children, disabled men and women, who do not have to be over 50 years of age, who must be taken care of in an adequate manner without taxing the taxpayer again. This plan of state warrants will exempt them from tax, and when in use will become preferred money in California."

"The warrants will be stamped on the back with state revenue stamps of one cent denomination to be placed on the backs of the warrants at the end of each week, which when 104 weeks have passed, will amount to $1.04—enough to redeem the warrant for face value and an additional four cents for the state to carry on the printing and distribution of the warrants."

The Angelinos, Belvedereans, Santa Anans, Fullertonians left the city highly pleased with the one day association of Anaheim folk and hope to turn another time for another visit.

One Man's Opinion

By X REPORTER

COUNTING SOME CHICKS

When my first grandchild is one year old I'm going to take him on a birthday present one of the best pups I can get my hands on. It will be a pup of as large a breed as the domicile of the child's parents can comfortably accommodate.

Oh, there may be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Still, few parents could resist such a compliment to their child, and by the time they get over admiring the cuteness of the little beastie they will be so attached to him that he will be a permanent member of the family.

By the time the youngster is two years old the pup will have just about reached his full size and will have learned that he is the partner and the guardian of that particular child.

If in choosing the pup I select a breed so large that the child's parents can't keep him in the city, but compelled to move to the country, that will be fine. I'll consider that as part of the plot.

I want that pup to grow to mature doghood while his little master or mistress is going through the toddling stage and approaching kindergarten and first grade age.

By the time the child is 6 years old and the dog is 5 or so, there should be a bond of friendship and understanding between them that is a lot stronger than the two words can signify.

I hear someone asking if it would be just the thing to do if the first grandchild happens to be a girl baby. Also a question about whether a pup wouldn't be too great an added chore around the house while the bambino was so young.

I've taken all those things into consideration, and my mind is made up. I'm going to be one of those grandfathers who speak a piece occasionally to the younger generations and expect to have that piece heeded. Yes, I'll be on old hallelujah, I expect.

This recipe is designed to do the right thing by one kid and one pup, and has not yet been developed to the point of where a second or a third or fourth child comes to the same household.

But since there is not as yet any grandchild, and no likelihood of any for some years to come, there's plenty of time in which to study the matter.

Though Shirley Temple's cute and dinky
And clever in Wee Willie Winkle,
For me it is her songs and dancing
That always make her most enchanting.

Howdy, folks! Many people are kept poor pretending to be rich.

Human Nature Note: We all have imitations—yawn and see for yourself.

Movie Producer (entering gates of heaven): "St. Peter, my boy, you've got the makings of a super-film here!"

Thought for Today: Marriage is the only sentence commuted for bad behavior.

NEW YORK.—The hat check millionaire joins the long list of vanished plutocrats. For five years now his ranks have been disintegrating, due to the growth of the hatless fad. A fad given impetus when Earl Carroll thought fresh air might be a panacea for baldness.

Today along the streets six out of 10 per sons go bare head, and among the young the custom is almost universal. There was a time when the hat check concession supported night clubs. But the last big concession was farmed out by the Stock club.

It receives $8000 more a year for the concession than it pays for rent. But the days of such grants seem ended. Even the celebrated red-haired Renee, the hat check girl at Sardi's, has become dispirited over the outlook for the future.

Hat manufacturers, too, are alarmed over the picture. It has kept them awake at night, and it is reported they have formed a sizable pool as a bonus for some bright advertising man or publicity wizard who can make America hat conscious again.

There is still confusion in public thought as to whether or not the popular stage and screen actress, Louise Dresser, is a sister of Theodore Dreiser. The origin of the story goes back to Paul Dresser's days as a song writer. He was Dreiser's brother, and changed his name to Dreiser for professional reasons. Paul was a close friend of Billy Kerlin, an engineer running between Evansville and Terre Haute. One day a beautiful little girl came to Dresser's Chicago office, said she was Billy Kerlin's daughter and was looking for a job as a singer. Dresser listened, heard her sing and then, determined the child of his old friend should get that job, picked up the telephone. He talked to a theater manager thus: "My sister, Louise Dresser, is in town and wants a job singing. . . ." The girl got the job, made good, and that's how lovely Louise Kerlin became Louise Dresser. Miss Dresser once told me Theodore Dreiser was the only member of Paul Dresser's family she had never met.

To my mind no comedian is more entertaining nor offers a more original bit of business than Charles Judels, who appears all too infrequently in the movies and on the radio. Judels is best imitating an excited Frenchman, jabbering away with the machine gun rattling of the mercurial native. The astounding thing is that Judels knows only a few ordinary words of French. Yet so pat are his nuances even French audiences have listened to his meaningless cacophony and believed that they for some reason, had simply not been able to catch what he is saying. He can perform similar miracles with Chinese, German and Italian languages, about which he knows even less.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon, whose voice was so popular on the radio, was one of the town's most versatile literary figures. Few are such jacks of all trades and masters of so many. He paints well, water color sketches of his native Holland being highly treasured by collectors, and he is an etcher and caricaturist of ability.

Aside from his fame as a historian, he is an astute biographer, as his Rembrandt proves. He can change his writing pace at will, turning in stories for children and adventure tales for grown-ups. Too, aside from his oratorical ability he is an authority on sailing vessels. People who know him well know how to land him for a dinner guest. They have only to mention there will be pea soup, his favorite dish and one of which he never tires.

I like the way one publisher ballyhooes a recent novel. The ad: "His best novel to date." It happens to be the only novel the author ever wrote.

Remarkable Remarks

No one has fired a rocket to the moon, or devised a golf ball that wouldn't hook, but some real boons to mankind have turned up.—Albert G. Burns, president of the national inventors' congress, commenting on the bright ideas of 1937.

The plan of proper education is the cornerstone of a democratic state. To set up this type of democracy we cannot live on the memory of past deeds.—M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools in Georgia.

I think if you can see the sunny side of some things it's easier now and then.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.
